NEWS SUMMARY

THE SITUATION IN THE FAR EAST.

Admiral Togo captured or sunk 19 Russian warships; took Admiral Nebogatoff prisoner with thousands of Russians, and scattered the fragments of the czar's once mighty fleet. CZAR'S FLEET ANNIHILATED; NINETEEN VESSELS LOST; NEBOGATOFF A PRISONER

Flower of Squadron Under Rojestvensky Wiped Out, and Commander Is Probably Dead.

NICHOLAS WEEPS AT THE NEWS

Only Mitigation of Crushing Defeat Is a Report That Togo Has Lost Seven Ships—The Captured Russians Number Between 2,000 and 3,000. All of the Ships of the Line Have Apparently Either Been Sunk or Have Surrendered to the Japanese—France Is Pressing Russia to Seek Peace at Once.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, May 29.—(9 p. m.)—The number of Russian vessels of all descriptions sunk and captured by Admiral Togo's fleet now stands at 19. It is possible that three additional warships were sunk in the fight Saturday and others later. The navy department refrains, however, from crediting reports of this nature until it is assured of their correctness. It is believed the Ural is the name of the captured transport which has been omitted in the list previously cabled.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 29.—The local telegraph agency has received the following from Shanghai: "News has been received here that seven Japanese ships, two of which were armored, and four Russian ships have been sunk. It is confidently believed here the Japanese are awaiting the publication of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's official dispatches from Vladivostok, before admitting the extent of their own losses."

LONDON, May 30.—According to the correspondent of the Daily Mail at Seoul, Korea, early on Sunday morning Vice Admiral Togo, with practically all the powerful fighting ships of the Japanese navy, was at Masampho, Korea, when signals from his scouts between Tsu and Quelpart islands announced the approach of the Russian fleet in full force. A few hours later the scouts reported the Russians were not ascending the western channel, as had been anticipated, but were coming up the eastern channel.

Admiral Togo immediately started at full speed around the north of Tsu island, and when he doubled the island he saw the Russians coming in two columns. He then brought a terrific fire to bear on the flank of the port column, and as the Russians fell into disorder he forced them steadily eastward toward the Japanese coast, where they were attacked by every vessel that flew the Japanese flag.

Repeated torpedo attacks were delivered, some of them with the greatest success. The vessels which escaped, the correspondent says, will probably be able to reach Vladivostok, and he adds other operations of the utmost importance are proceeding.

Official Report of Victory.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The following official report from Tokyo was received at the Japanese legation today:

"TOKYO, May 29.—Reports received from Admiral Togo at the Japanese headquarters.

"First report, received morning May 27: 'Immediately upon the receipt of report that Russian squadron was in sight, our combined squadron started for attack. Weather is fine today, but with heavy seas.'

"Second report, received night May 27: 'Combined squadron attacked Russian squadron today near Okinoshima, southeast of Tsushima, and defeated it, sinking at least four ships and inflicting heavy damage upon others. Damage to our ships is insignificant. Our destroyer and torpedo flotillas delivered attack after sunset.'

"Third report, received Monday, May 29: 'Main force of our combined squadron continued pursuit since the 27th and attacked 28th near Llancourt rocks (northeast of Okinoshima) a squadron consisting of Nicholas I. (battleship), Orei (battleship), Senyavin, Aprexin and Izumurud. Irumurud fled, while remaining four vessels surrendered. No damage to our ships. According to statements of prisoners, vessels sunk in engagement May 27 were Borodina (battleship), Alexander III. (battleship), Zemtchug and three other ships. Rear Admiral Nebogatoff and about 2,000 other Russians were taken prisoners.

"The following are damages suffered by enemy in addition to those given above since commencement of battle, as reported by commanders not under immediate command of Togo and by observation stations:

"Sunk—Admiral Nachimoff, Domitri Donskoi, Svietlana, Admiral Uskoff, Kamtchatka, Irutshush and three destroyers.

"Captured—Vladimir, Monomach, foundered after capture. One special service ship, whole name unknown, and one destroyer.

"Russian losses definitely known so far may be classified as follows:

"Two battleships, one coast defense ship, five cruisers, two special ships, three destroyers were sunk; two battleships, two coast defense ships, one special service ship one destroyer, were captured. It is not yet clear whether three vessels stated by prisoners to have been sunk are included or not in above list. There are more than 1,000 prisoners, besides 2,000 taken by main force of combined squadron.

"The naval engagement is still in progress, so that it will take some time before the final results can be known."

According to advices received by the navy department from Tokyo, the Japanese, in addition to the ships already named, captured the Russian battleship Sissoi Veliky, and the Russian flagship was seriously damaged.

Rojestvensky's Fate Unknown.

TOKYO, May 29.—In the battle fought Saturday in the straits of Korea the Russian battleships Borodino and Alexander III., the armored cruisers Admiral Nakhimoff, Dmitri Donskoi and Vladimir Monomach, the coast defense ironclad Admiral Oushakoff, the protected cruisers Svietlana and Jemtchug, the repair ship Kamtschatka and the cruiser Irotessim, were sunk.

The battleships Orei and Nicolai I. and the coast defense ironclads Admiral Senlavin and General-Admiral Apraxine, were captured. Rear Admiral Nebogatoff, former commander of the fourth division of the Pacific fleet, and recently commander of the information squadron, composed of scouts and merchantmen, with 3,000 other Russians, is among the prisoners captured by the Japanese.

The personal fate of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky is not known. There is some belief that he possibly perished.

LONDON, May 30.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says a Russian warship has arrived off Iwami, on the southwest coast of Japan, and hoisted the white flag. The dispatch says 300 officers and men, most of whom are wounded, are being assisted by the Japanese Red Cross there.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post, in a dispatch dated May 30, says: "The Russian transports off Woosung hauled down their flags today."

LONDON, May 29.—A dispatch to the London Evening News from Tokyo says eight captains of Russian warships were drowned during the naval battle of Saturday in the straits of Korea.

According to stock exchange reports, on the Japanese side three cruisers were sunk and a dozen torpedo boat destroyers were sunk or disabled.

Admit Bitter Defeat.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—After waiting vainly all day and evening for direct news from the scattered remnants of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's destroyed and beaten fleet, the Russian admiralty at midnight no longer attempted to hold

CASSINI IS STILL DEFIANT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Quick to realize the far-reaching effect of Admiral Rojestvensky's disastrous defeat in the Korean straits, and in keeping with his promise announced a long time ago to do all in his power to bring the belligerents in the far east to direct negotiations at the proper time, President Roosevelt tonight received by special appointment Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister and a conference followed for the greater part of the evening.

Mr. Takahira called at the White House shortly after 9 o'clock this evening, and was immediately received. Earlier in the day the minister had called and left for the president the report of the battle later given out at the legation. DISREGARDS BLACK HAND AND IS BADLY WOUNDED

When an Italian Calls at Father-in-Law's House for Wife, an Unknown Attacks Him.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

EBENSBURG, May 29.—If you do not leave your wife after 15 days you and your wife will die the death. That is your last chance. Your ill omen.

(Signed) THE BLACK HAND.

This communication was received by Pete Smorto, an Italian shoemaker at Barnesboro, several days ago and because he did not obey the notice, Smorto today is seriously wounded, having been cut and slashed about the face and body with a razor by an unknown person.

Several weeks ago Smorto eloped with the daughter of Antonio Pelligrino, a wealthy Italian merchant of Barnesboro. The father had the son-in-law arrested for abduction, claiming that the girl was under 16. At the hearing Smorto gave bail for his appearance at court and Pelligrino took his daughter back home.

Last evening he told Smorto to call at his house for the girl, saying he could have her and they would settle their difficulties. When Smorto reached the place an unknown person bore him to the ground and slashed him with a razor, then making his escape. Officers are investigating.

NOT A SHIP ESCAPED.

Japanese Consul Uchida Declares None of Russian Vessels Made Its Way Out Into Pacific.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Sadazuchi Uchida, Japanese consul general in this city, discussing the defeat of the Russian fleet in the oKrean straits tonight, said: "We have positive information now that none of the Russian fleet escaped into the Pacific ocean. A few of the smaller ships may have escaped through the Korean straits, but they are being hotly pursued.

Continuing, Mr. Uchida said: "So far as my people are concerned, I know we shall not pursue a vindictive course. With peace, however, must come national vindication, and the establishment of the causes for which Japan went into this war."

AMERICAN YACHT WINS INTERNATIONAL RACE

The Atlantic Crosses the Line at The Lizard, Capturing the Kaiser's Cup.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

THE LIZARD, ENGLAND, May 29.—The American three-masted schooner-yacht Atlantic crossed the winning line here at 9:18 tonight, capturing the German emperor's cup in the international transatlantic race. The Atlantic is owned by Wilson Marshall of Bridgeport, Conn., and was in command of Capt. Charles Barr of New London, Conn.

The unexpectedly early arrival of the Atlantic off the Scilly islands this morning caught the international yacht race authorities napping. When the dispatch announcing the yacht passing the Scilly islands reached Falmouth the German cruiser Pfeil, the mark boat, was placidly anchored in the harbor. Those on board the cruiser were not expecting the yachts before Wednesday. The Pfeil immediately sped off to take her position a mile southward of here.

As the Atlantic passed the line a gun was fired from the cruiser Pfeil, while rockets were sent up from Lloyds' signal station and foghorns were blown at the lighthouse. The Atlantic proceeded for Cowes, Isle of Wight, intent on beating the record.

Capt. Barr and Wilson Marshall agreed that they had made a splendid passage, without a single mishap, only experiencing one strong gale, through which the boat rode admirably. The record sail for one day was 341 knots which Mr. Marshall believes beats anything hitherto achieved. This was made May 24. On May 25 the yacht made 282 knots, on May 26, 179 knots, on May 27, 143 knots, and on May 28, 213 knots.

The Atlantic reached Bishop Rock lighthouse (southwest of the main group of the Scilly isles) May 29, having accomplished the passage to that point in 11 days 18 hours and 22 minutes, with an average of 10½ knots an hour.

WEAVER WINS EVERY POINT

Philadelphia Republican Organization Surrenders to Mayor.

APPOINTEES SECURE

Durham Gives the Word That Confirmation Will Not Be Held Up.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS TO END

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 29.

Mayor John Weaver has won his battle. The proposed 75-year extension of the United Gas Improvement Company will not be ratified. Two years hence the proposition may again become a matter of councilmanic consideration, but as it is not probable that the city will then have the necessary funds to redeem the plant, it will likely continue to be operated by the United Gas Improvement Company.

Calmly regarded the political situation is one that time must develop. Hysterical claims that the Republican organization has been wrecked are ill-considered. Public sentiment from the outset has opposed the gas lease. Israel W. Durham and his lieutenants awoke to this fact Saturday. In consequence the United Gas Improvement Company withdrew its proposition. But the tide was still at flood stage this morning. The Republican leaders realized the fact. They knew that the mayor was in the saddle, and that he could not be checked.

As a result it was decided that Weaver should have the right-of-way; not only the right-of-way, but that his progress should not be interfered with. Mr. Durham decided to lead the procession. He also decided to save his friends and incidentally the Republican city organization. Prevailing sentiment is so strongly pro-Weaver that nothing can stand against it. The permanence of the mayor's popularity must be measured by time. His own actions will largely control results.

Appointments Will Be Confirmed.

Briefly stated the situation tonight is that the Republican organization will no longer oppose legally or politically, the mayor. His appointments of Col. Sheldon Potter and A. Lincoln Acker as directors of public safety and public works will be confirmed. The legal proceedings which resulted in a preliminary injunction, issued by common pleas court No. 3, will be discontinued. Every member of councils giving allegiance to the organization has been told to "get in out of the wet," to support the mayor to the limit.

Probably the strongest political "family" in Philadelphia is that of the Vare brothers. Senator George Vare and his brother, William S. Vare, recorder of deeds, control a number of downtown wards. They also have the street cleaning contract, an item of much profit. Mayor Weaver had it in his power to deprive the Vares of this contract. He had indicated an intention of this nature by having the proposal for street cleaning bids withdrawn. Durham and Senator Vare were together yesterday at Atlantic City. The result of their conference was the announcement by William S. Vare this morning, that his friends in councils would vote for the confirmation of Directors Potter and Acker and all other administrative measures. This declaration was followed by the following from Mr. Durham:

Durham Advises Friends.

"I have advised all my friends, that if Mayor Weaver sends the appointments of Col. Sheldon Potter to be director of public safety and A. Lincoln Acker to be director of public works to select council for confirmation they shall not vote against them."

Many people regard this as a "lay-down" on the part of the organization. They had provocation for such a conclusion. It was true. But Mr. Durham has only receded so far as the gas lease extension and opposition to Weaver is concerned. Weaver is to be mayor in fact. He will not be opposed in any administrative move. He will be asked to assume full responsibility. The organization will not do so.

"Our position," said a Republican leader tonight, "is simply this. We dropped the gas ordinance because public opinion was antagonistic. Politically we are not weakened. Our organization will name the delegates to the next state convention which will nominate Gov. Pennypacker's successor. We will elect the next sheriff and the full county ticket. Our friends in and out of councils are pledged to a continuance of stalwart Republican rule, and they will not become parties to the fusion proposition which has been suggested by the opponents of the gas lease. Philadelphia will continue to be a municipality governed by Republicans."

Watching Mayor's Next Move.

Mayor Weaver's plans are of much importance at this juncture. No one seems to know what he intends to do. Both factions assert that he will make no wholesale dismissals of employes. Just now the mayor seems to be content with the defeat of the gas lease. He says it is a great victory for the people. He is right. The police have been told to not interest themselves, pernicously at least, with politics. This pleases the police, also the Republican leaders. As a political asset the police have never been highly regarded by Mr. Durham.

Another promise made by the mayor is that it will not be necessary to increase the millage. This brings the issue to one of improvements. It was the necessity to provide the funds for Sunday boulevards and the elimination of grade crossings which caused the organization to make an effort to pass the gas works. Mayor Weaver is committed to the proposed improvements. So are the people, at least they were until their municipal view took on the lurid flame of the gas proposition. They may go back to their original thought, and when they do they will find it cannot be financed.

Still this is a remarkable situation. It is the most notable political revolution in the history of Pennsylvania politics. Sentiment today is unfriendly to the Republican leaders. All over town, in hotel lobbies, on trolley cars and from the crowds in the streets one hears the mayor commended. The question is, will it survive without an issue? From the field the gas matter will be eliminated this week. It will survive as a reminiscence. Then the controversy will be exclusively political. The people will decide whether they want Durham or Wanamaker to lead them. In the past 10 years this question has been annually answered.

The Committee of Seventy held a special meeting this afternoon and pledged unfaltering support to the mayor.

Vare Brothers Forced the Surrender.

Ministers' associations of this city at their respective weekly meetings today commended Mayor Weaver for the fight he has made and pledged him their loyal support. Clergymen who had been prominent in denouncing the mayor only a few weeks ago were present at some of these meetings, but those were among the first to declare that although they had sharply criticised him for his apparent unwillingness to accede to their wishes then, they are now firmly convinced that he is on the side of righteousness now.

Late information tonight from administration forces is to the effect that the Vare brothers gave Durham no information as to their intention to side with Mayor Weaver. If this be true Durham could do nothing except surrender. The power of the Vares is so important that the organization must regard it as a party asset.

For some time there has been much ill feeling between the Vares and Senator James P. McNichol. Rivalry because of city contracts was the cause. Durham, in the past, has been able to prevent a rupture. He was not able to control the situation today. Because of their animosity toward McNichol the Vares "broke" with Durham, is the story afloat tonight. If true it will have a significant bearing upon the future of the organization.

Mayor Weaver Is Happy.

Mayor Weaver was a happy man today. Much of his time was taken up with delegations of citizens, who called upon him to offer their assistance in his fight. The largest delegation to call was a committee of business men from the Twenty-sixth ward. To them he said that too much credit had been given him for the victory already won, as it was the people that won the fight and not him. Continuing he said:

"I have said to every councilman who came to see me, 'I don't desire you to vote with me or against me until your conscience has approved which you will do. If you are satisfied with the dictates of your conscience then go whichever way you choose.'

"All I aim to do is to disenthrall every councilman. I want to enfranchise them and also the people. It is time we struck down these base steals. It seems as if the hand of Providence ordained this fight, otherwise it would have been impossible to have downed the steal. Now what we must do is stand together and put Philadelphia as she ought to be, in the very forefront of American municipalities."

Eight ward meetings planned last week were held tonight at which addresses were made by prominent citizens in which they called upon those assembled to stand by the mayor in whatever action he may take in the future for the good of the city.

Mayor Weaver today received the following telegram from Gov. Folk of Missouri:

Keep up the fight. The cost will sometimes seem high and the way dark, but remember, no matter how mighty the forces of corruption may be, you have behind you the strongest machine in the world—the heart and conscience of the people of America.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

BARON HAYASHI EXULTS OVER JAPAN'S TRIUMPH

Declares Russia's Defeat Will Have Far-Reaching Effect Not Only on Far East, but on Europe.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, May 29.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, this evening said: "One thing is certain—this victory makes the Japanese further naval and military operations very easy. If the war continues Vladivostok may become a second Port Arthur. It seems impossible under the circumstances that Russia will send more ships to the far east.

"We consider the victory as the most decisive of modern times. Its effect will be far-reaching, and it will have an influence not only on the future of the far east, but also on Europe, for Russia can no longer be reckoned with as a naval power. It is my opinion that Togo's victory is on a par with that of Nelson, achieved a century ago this year."

Regarding the alleged Russian threat to carry the war into Mongolia, Baron Hayashi said the Japanese would follow wherever Russia led. The Japanese government, he added, had only promised to confine the war to the territory employed by Russia.

LAGGARDS SUFFER THE MOST

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 29.—When the report given out at the Japanese legation this evening was shown to a naval officer who is known as one of the best posted officers in Washington on the naval engagements that have occurred since the war began, the latter said:

"In attacking with his torpedo flotilla after sundown Togo is pursuing the policy he has followed from the outset. He has never attacked with his torpedo craft except at night. There is nothing in the dispatch to show this attack inflicted any damage on the Russian ships, though in all probability it had a most disastrous effect on the morale of the personnel. It is evident the straits were not held, for some of the Russian ships went far to the northward when sunk and others are yet unaccounted for.

"The group of vessels attacked on the Liancourt rocks were the laggards of the fleet, and the presence among them of the Orel, a much faster ship than the others of the group, would seem to indicate this swift ship had been badly damaged. The fact that these ships surrendered would indicate they were surrounded by the main division of Togo's fleet. If this were true, Rojestvensky, with the other ships which escaped, must have gained considerable headway to the northward, which could necessitate the Japanese fleet making good time to overtake them before Vladivostok was reached.

"It should be remembered the reports of observation stations are not altogether reliable, and it is not possible to accept as absolute the reports of the prisoners as to the names of the vessels lost.

"In all probablty, the attack of the Japanese was at close range, for at the point where the fighting seems to have occurred the channel is not more than 30 miles wde. The attack of the man force, May 28, on the group of ships off Liancourt rocks, shows this group of vessels was making toward the Japanese coast.

"What is most difficult to explain is the capture of so many vessels. The sinking of some of the larger and more powerful ships may be explained by the opening of the valves of the ships before they were fought to a finish. The fact that so many prisoners were taken would indicate that in some cases the ships were abandoned before they were completely disabled. Certainly gun fire could not have sunk the larger battleships without the destruction of nearly every man on board.

"Thus far, the reports show a great but not a complete victory for Admiral Togo. Destruction or capture of Rojestvensky's flagship and the other large ships, if accomplished by the pursuing Japanese fleet, will give to Admiral Togo the most complete and sweeping naval victory of modern times."

The president was accompanied by Secretary Loeb and occupied a special car attached to the regular express on the Pennsylvania railroad.

BLUE SUIT HIS SHROUD.

McKeesport Grand Army Man to Be Buried in His New Memorial Day Uniform.

A new suit of blue which Morris Williams, a McKeesport Grand Army man, bought for today's parade will be his burial robe. Instead of following the fife and drum with the members of his post to decorate the graves of his fallen comrades, his post will be called upon to perform the sad duties at his tomb.

Mr. Williams was 74 years old and was in the hardest campaigns of the rebellion. He was an enthusiastic member of the G. A. R. and in anticipation of joining the Memorial day exercises he bought a new uniform and assured his comrades he would turn out with the column. He was enjoying good health then, but a few days ago he was seized by a fatal illness and died on Sunday night. He lived in Twelfth avenue, McKeesport, and will be buried in the Versailles cemetery.

The defendant was remanded.

It was received by Mrs. McKinley Monday and placed on the casket of the martyred president in the afternoon.

TAFT'S VISIT WILL NOT HAVE POLITICAL SEQUEL

ST. PETERSBURG, May 29.—According to the foreign office the conversation of Ambassador Count Cassini with President Roosevelt in which the question of the political construction which might be placed on Secretary Taft's prospective visit to Japan and the Philippines was raised, was entirely unofficial and not upon instructions from the Russian government. The president assured Count Cassini Secretary Taft's visit was entirely devoid of political significance.

MASSACRE OF ARMENIANS IN TRANSCAUCASIA

MUKICHEVAN, GOVERNMENT OF ERIVEN, TRANSCAUCASIA, May 29.—A massacre of Armenians by the Tartar population is proceeding here and in the surrounding villages. The streets are filled with dead and wounded. The number of victims exceeds 100 dead, including a priest. The butchery is reported to be still more dreadful in the villages. The authorities are powerless.

CZAR'S FLEET ANNIHILATED

cut against the overwhelming evidence pouring in from all directions that the fleet on which all their hopes were centered had suffered a greater disaster than did the combined French and Spanish fleets at Trafalgar.

More bitter even than defeat is the Japanese claim of the virtual annihilation of the Russian fleet with practically no loss on their side, and many officers cling doggedly to the belief that Vice Admiral Togo must have suffered heavily.

With every ship of Rear Admiral Nebogatoff's reinforcing division either sent to the bottom or forced to strike its flag, and only six of Rojestvensky's original 16 fighting ships absent from the list of the vessels sunk or captured, and with the Japanese pursuit still continuing, no naval authority has the temerity to dream that Russia can again attempt to wrest the mastery of the sea from Japan in the present war.

The captured warships alone will furnish Japan with ready-made reinforcements, which will be more than a match for the fourth Pacific squadron now about to sail from Cronstadt.

Emperor Nicholas Weeps.

The emperor was completely prostrated by the news and, according to reports, he broke down and wept. The effect of the disaster will be a terrible blow to the government. The futility of trying to stagger on, on land, is everywhere recognized, and the cry for "peace at any price," is sure to be raised. This time it is believed the government cannot resist such a cry. Indeed, the radical Liberals are openly rejoicing. They declare the disaster means peace and a constitution, and that the deaths of thousands of their fellow countrymen and the loss of over a hundred million dollars' worth of warships is not too big a price to pay.

The friends of peace in the government, are already reproaching the war party with forcing the issue between Togo and Rojestvensky. When the fleet appeared in the straits of Malacca they tried vainly to persuade the emperor the time was opportune for the opening of peace negotiations, but the war party convinced his majesty, and Rojestvensky, for the honor of the navy, insisted the fleet should be given a chance to retrieve the disasters suffered on land.

France Urges Peace.

Diplomatists entertain no doubt that the belligerent faction will continue to urge that the war be fought to the bitter end, but the friends of Russia abroad, and especially France, are now bringing overwhelming arguments to bear in favor of peace.

There is excellent reason to believe that the Russian government in this crisis will turn to M. Delcasse, the French foreign minister, on whose ability and whose loyalty as Russia's friend the emperor and his ministers have implicit confidence. Sometime ago it appeared likely President Roosevelt would play a big role in the peace negotiations, but now his share is apt to be determined by M. Delcasse's decision. The latter may, of course, consider it wise to place the negotiations in President Roosevelt's hands.

The war party, however, will insist now, as they did after the battle of Mukden, that peace is impossible on the heels of defeat. The members of this faction are already proclaiming that the naval disaster in nowise alters the situation on land. Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch having prepared his plans as if the fleet did not exist.

The censorship is taking the position that it is improper to accept the Japanese report in the absence of official news and has forbidden the publication of foreign dispatches giving details of the defeat. Nevertheless, news of the magnitude of the disaster spread like wildfire throughout the city.

Rojestvensky Reported Alive.

The admiralty is without reports of the defeat. Private advices are said to have reached the city from Vladivostok, according to which Rojestvensky is alive, but that he had a narrow escape. He is said to have transferred his flag from the Kniaz Souvaroff to one of the battleships subsequently sunk and that he was wounded and picked up by a torpedo boat.

A large portion of the officers and sailors of the fleet were residents of St. Petersburg, and evidences of expectant grief are seen on every hand. Wives and families are besieging the admiralty and are visiting the churches to pray for the escape of their loved ones. Many of the people of St. Petersburg refuse absolutely to credit the news from Tokyo.

The government undoubtedly fears the effect of the news of the disaster upon the country, as evidence of which Gov.-Gen. Trepoff has taken personal charge of the censorship in St. Petersburg.

SAUERS LIVES UP TO LICENSE COURT RULING

John Sauers yesterday tendered his resignation as a member of the Allegheny sinking fund commission to Mayor James G. Wyman, to take effect at once. He gave as his reason the rule adopted by the license court judges, that saloon keepers must not hold office. It is probable that James Richey, Jr., president of the Allegheny Real Estate Savings and Trust Company, will be appointed to fill the vacancy.

Tilt in a McKeesport Committee.

When the railroad committee of McKeesport councils was last night discussing P. J. Murphy's ordinance requiring safety gates at all railroad crossings, Chairman Soles intimated that Murphy had said enough. Murphy replied that Soles "did what he was told to do." In the following confusion a motion to adjourn prevailed, but some heated language was heard before the members dispersed.

Old Game Worked to Tap Hill.

While on man accompanied Miss Lilly Fisher to the rear of the store of her brother, Frank H. Fisher, in Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, yesterday afternoon, another man tapped the till for $9. The two pretended to want a keg of white lead, but decided not to buy as there were no handles on the kegs. After they were gone the money was missed. A description of the men has been furnished the borough police.

Rob as People Pass Store.

CONNELLSVILLE, May 29.—(Special.)—In view of persons going to church, robbers broke into the shoestore of I. C. Smutz last night, helped themselves to shoes, loaded them into a cart at the rear of the store and hauled them away. Passersby saw two men taking boxes from the shelves, but thinking they were connected with the store, they paid no attention. At least 40 pairs of women's and children's shoes were carried away.

SEEKS PEACE OPENING

White House tonight could not be obtained at a late hour, but it is understood the Japanese minister assured the president he had received official advices of the overwhelming character of the Japanese victory.

The conference of Mr. Takahira at the White House tonight was not generally known here. At the interested embassies and legations this evening the opinion was firmly expressed that President Roosevelt would undoubtedly lead the neutral nations in the effort to bring about peace. In tonight's conference it is thought the president's first object was to ascertain on what basis Japan can discuss the question of peace.

At the Russian embassy tonight Count Cassini, while naturally greatly depressed at the loss of life, expressed belief that when fuller details came in it would be found Admiral Rojestvensky had saved part of his squadron, and that his passage of the straits had been accomplished not without inflicting great damage on the opposing fleet.

Cassini Still Defiant.

"Talk of peace is premature," the ambassador declared. "If the victory be as stupendous as the Japanese would have the world believe, the neutral powers can scarcely wish for Japan to be allowed to remain without a taste of defeat. Much as I should welcome an end of the war for some reasons, my belief is that the effect of Rojestvensky's defeat will be the indefinite prolongation of the war. Russia must fight on perhaps for years, but until the tables are turned."

At the Japanese legation Minister Takahira had earlier in the day expressed his keen satisfaction at the victory of Admiral Togo. "I cannot discuss the effects of the battle," he said, "until the final reports are received—until we know Rojestvensky's fate. Ask Russia, not Japan, if the hour of peace has arrived. Our fleet is still pursuing the enemy. It is to Russia, not to Japan, that the initiative toward peace is to be looked for."

The promptness with which Washington has been able to furnish the world with the first news of the great battle is due primarily to the intimation conveyed to the American diplomatic, consular and naval officers abroad that the president desired prompt and full details of the impending naval battle at the earliest possible moment.

On returning to the legation from the White House, Minister Takahira declined to discuss in any particular his conference with the president. Regarding the possible effect of the outcome of the battle on peace negotiations, the minister said:

"After this sweeping victory, Russia alone can be held responsible for a prolongation of the war."

The repair ship Kawtsohatka was a most important unit of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet. She is understood to have been fitted up with every scientific appliance available for the repair of warships. She mounted six small quick-firing guns and had transport accommodations for 32 officers and 1,000 men.

The Irtessine was probably an auxiliary cruiser. Her name is not given in any of the naval lists available.

The battleship Orel is a sister ship of the Borodina and carried the same complement of officers and men.

The battleship Nicolai I. is of 9,672 tons displacement. Her armament consists of two 12-inch guns, four 9-inch guns, eight 6-inch guns and 12 quick-firing guns, in addition to a number of small rapid-fire guns. Her complement is 694 officers and men.

Seeks News of Her Husband.

She called at the morgue and said she had heard that her husband was run over and killed by a train in Philadelphia recently, but the Philadelphia authorities knew nothing of such a case. The Huddlestons have been separated four years. Mrs. Huddleston has been informed that her husband had $400 when he was last heard from.

Robbers in McKees Rocks.

The store of E. H. Graham of McKees Rocks was entered by thieves early yesterday morning and goods to the amount of about $17 were stolen. The robbers also secured $10 from a safe. Entrance was gained through the cellar. The McKees Rocks police also reported the robbery on May 10 of $105 from the jewelry store of Digby & Smith.

INCREASE NAVY, SAYS PRESIDENT

Mr. Roosevelt Declares This Is Lesson Togo Has Taught United States.

MORTON IS HIS MOUTHPIECE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 19, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.

"This means we should increase our own navy," is the substance of the remark which President Roosevelt made, when informed this morning that Togo had swept clear the eastern seas of Russian war craft. All through Washington this sentiment was echoed, not only by naval officers and government officials, but by civilians, and even by members of the diplomatic corps, who have observed the tendency on the part of congress to curtail the annual naval appropriations in favor of river and harbor improvements and public building projects. President Roosevelt was surprised at the news, for he had believed when the great fleets met there would be a hard, but not a one-sided fight.

There are only two men who can rightfully say, "I told you so," to President Roosevelt. They are Admiral Charles Beresford of the British navy, and Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, United States navy, commander-in-chief of the American North Atlantic fleet. They both told the president not long ago. It was their confident belief that when the fleets met the superior training of the Japanese personnel, together with other points of superiority in their ships, would mean a complete and decisive victory for the cause of the mikado. From the navy department the president received information which led him to think Rojestvensky had a fairly good chance at least, and in this opinion Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, likewise joined.

Mr. Morton voiced the sentiments of the president when he said tonight:

"The lesson of this great naval battle is an indisputable argument for expansion of the American navy. When I say expansion, I mean not only construction but instruction. We cannot afford to stop building ships for reason of false economy. We must keep up our target practice, we must continue our manoeuvers and drills unabated. We must take advantage of every opportunity to improve our powders, our guns and all conditions relating to the efficiency of the fleet.

"Target practice is expensive, but no money is spent with better results. The object of the navy in time of war is destruction of the enemy's fleet and effective gunnery is of paramount importance. The cardinal principle of our naval policy should be construction, instruction, destruction."

ARE PRESBYTERIANS.

Admirals Togo and Generals Kuroki and Oku Were Early Converts to That Faith.

Judging by the expressions of scores of Pittsburghers who sought information in person and by telephone at The Gazette office yesterday, relative to the latest news from the great naval battle in the east, the sympathies of Pittsburghers generally lean strongly toward the Japanese.

Presbyterians take great pride in the fact that Admiral Togo, the newest naval hero, and Gens. Kuroki and Oku of the Japanese army, are Presbyterians. President W. N. Frew of the Carnegie institute stated last night these men were early converts and are members of Presbyterian missions and congregations in Japan. The Rev. Dr. Frank W. Snead of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, recently preached a sermon on the fruits of missionary effort, citing these great soldiers as shining examples.

A Farmer Is Suspected of Causing the Death of a Young Girl Near Oswego, N. Y.

OSWEGO, N. Y., May 29.—(Special.)—Henry Manser, a farmer, 28 years old, was arrested by Sheriff Cook today on suspicion that he is the murderer of 12-year-old Cora Sweet, whose body was found in the woods last night.

Sheriff Cook has placed a strong guard around the jail tonight as it is feared that the farmers living near the scene of the murder will lynch Manser.

FRENCH ARE STUNNED.

Disaster to Russia's Navy Is Held, Must Now Force the Czar to Open a Way for Peace.

PARIS, May 29.—The magnitude of the Russian naval disaster has stunned French public opinion. The disaster is discussed by officials, the public and the press in a tone of depression, the prevailing view being that Russia now will be compelled to seek some means of terminating the war.

It was stated in diplomatic quarters tonight that while the result of the battle would contribute to eventual peace it did not give any immediate prospect of the opening of negotiations to that end. It was pointed out that the obstinacy of the character of the Russians would probably lead them to turn their hopes toward Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch and to await the result of another land battle.

MR. FORD NAMES PENNYPACKER

County Chairman Predicts the Elevation of the Governor to the Supreme Court Bench.

NOMINATION IN SEPTEMBER

"I am of the opinion that Gov. S. W. Pennypacker will be the Republican nominee for supreme court justice to succeed Justice John Dean, deceased. The nomination will be made by the Republican state committee. While there has been no meeting of the members from this county, they would no doubt support the governor."

This statement was made yesterday by Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the Republican county committee. He is in close touch with the Republican state leaders. Mr. Ford does not expect a meeting of the state committee to make the nomination before September 1. The friends of Gov. Pennypacker are confident if an unanimous nomination is offered he will accept.

The supreme court is about ready to take its summer vacation. The justices will next sit in this city beginning the second Monday in October. There will be no necessity for the governor to appoint a successor of Justice Dean, as the six judges can conduct the business of the court during the summer and fall. If Gov. Pennypacker is nominated, he would no doubt continue as the executive of the state until after the November election and would probably not resign until January 1. He would be succeeded by Lieut.-Gov. W. M. Brown of New Castle. His successor would have one year to serve.

When Gov. Pennypacker refused the supreme court justice nomination in April, 1904, conditions were different. He then had over half of his term to serve. The last legislature to be held during his administration has finished its business and none of the reasons which then caused him to decline now exist.

The eight district members of the state committee from this county that will have a voice in the nomination of Justice Dean's successor are Robert McAfee, Francis L. Robbins, Archibald Mackrell, W. A. Magee, Jr., David Hardy, M. G. Leslie, Joseph G. Armstrong and Frank F. Bigham.

The Democratic state convention will probably be reconvened in September to nominate a supreme court justice. The purpose of delay in this case is to await developments in the Philadelphia situation. If there is an opportunity for fusion, W. H. Berry of West Chester, the nominee for state treasurer, may be pulled off the ticket and the place given to an independent Republican. The nominee for supreme court justice will come from the east.

MR. CARNEGIE SAYS JAPAN SHOULD BE RESTRAINED

Expresses Hope President Roosevelt Will Be Invited to Act as Mediator in Matter of Peace Terms.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, May 29.—Andrew Carnegie has been interviewed by a representative of a London paper as to the result of the defeat of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet. He said:

"I believe in the end it will prove a mighty factor for good and will do more than anything else recently for the promotion of universal peace. Had the Russian admiral won a victory over the Japanese this would undoubtedly have meant the war would have been prolonged indefinitely, with enormous loss of blood and money, while now I am convinced Russia will begin to see the fight is hopeless and sue for peace.

"On the other hand it is important that the Japanese, drunk with victory, shall not be allowed to impose too heavy conditions upon her defeated enemy, and for this reason I hope the United States will be asked to mediate. Nobody, in my opinion, could better satisfy both sides than President Roosevelt."

TWO BIDS RECEIVED FOR FILTER BONDS

City Securities to Amount of $630,000 Awarded to Union Trust Company.

Only two bids were received yesterday for the city filtration bonds. The bids were for the $630,000 worth of the bonds, the balance of the issue of $2,000,000 being taken by the city sinking fund commission. The two bids presented were from the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh, and the Firemen's Relief and Beneficial association.

H. C. McElhowney, president of the Union Trust Company, sent a letter to Controller Larkin with his bid, offering to take the entire loan of $2,000,000 if, for any reason, the bonds were not awarded to the sinking fund commission, or to take any part of the issue at par. The Firemen's Relief and Beneficial association, which is composed of employes of the fire bureau, offered to take $90,000 worth of the bonds at par, but in its bid it asked for bonds maturing in 1917, and there are only $600 worth of the bonds maturing in that year.

The bids were opened by Mayor Hays and Controller Larkin in the controller's office at 3 o'clock. The entire $630,000 worth of bonds were awarded to the Union Trust Company, but Controller Larkin said if the Firemen's Relief and Beneficial association wanted the $90,000 worth of the bonds at par, with the understanding that it will have to pay the state tax of 4 mills, he could make arrangements with the Union Trust Company to give the organization that amount of the securities.

Assistant Controller Morrow said Boston brokers did not bid on the bonds because they do not care for bonds bearing less than 4 per cent interest. The bonds bear 3.5 per cent interest and after the state tax on the bonds is deducted the net interest will be only 3.1 per cent. The Union Trust Company must pay the city the accrued interest on the bonds for eight months because the bonds are dated from the first of last October.

VIGOROUS ENFORCEMENT OF CHILD LABOR LAW

Bootblacks and Newsboys Are Exempt, They Being Classed as Merchants.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, May 29.—The state factory inspection department has entered upon a campaign of vigorous enforcement of what Chief Inspector Delaney describes as the best child labor law in the world. Delay in receiving the copies of the new law and the requisite certificates from the state printer have prevented active measures heretofore since Gov. Pennypacker signed the bill one month ago.

The important provisions of the new law, contrasted with the old one, are that the minimum age limit is raised to 14 years instead of 13, and the department has jurisdiction over virtually every class of workers except domestics, miners and farm hands.

Classes of boys which will be reached are messengers, bootblacks, poolroom and bowling alley employes. Bootblacks on the street in business for themselves cannot be touched, as they are merchants. The same is true of newsboys who sell papers independent of any newspaper office or agency. Chief Inspector Delaney's clerks are now mailing copies of the law and certificates to deputy inspectors over the state. Business men everywhere are already prepared for the law, through the efforts of deputies ever since it went into effect, and it is thought that comparatively few violations will be reported.

The department will not attempt to govern domestic employment. Coal mines are already under a separate law and the department does not consider farms a class of working places where jurisdiction is necessary for the reason that farmwork itself is such as to practically prohibit the employment of youngsters.

RAIDING AND MASSAGE ORDINANCES ARE PASSED

Allegheny Select Council Approves, After Warm Debate, the Measures Desired by Mayor Wyman.

After a long debate Allegheny select council passed finally last evening the "raiding" and "massage parlor" ordinances which Allegheny common council adopted at its last meeting.

In the case of the massage parlor ordinance opposition arose from John C. Oliver and George C. Lecky, as well as Mr. Bealor. Mr. Oliver said the police already have authority to raid unlawful massage parlors. Mr. Lecky wished the annual license reduced from $50 to $10. The amendment was lost and the ordinance was passed with Messrs. Bealor, Oliver and McBride voting against it.

The ordinance fixing the license fee of peddlers of ice at $10 instead of $24 was amended to include ice cream peddlers and was laid over for printing.

All the fire department ordinances passed by common council were approved. Under a suspension of the rules the following ordinances were introduced and referred: Authorizing the mayor and the director of public works to contract with the Pennsylvania Company to change agreement for abolition of grade crossings at Washington avenue and Sedgwick street, establishing the grades of Orleans and McFarland streets and an unnamed street in the Eleventh ward, and exonerating the Baptist Mission church from payment of assessment for grading Kennedy avenue.

It was returned to the St. Louis man, who would not stay to prosecute. The boy is charged with being a supicious person.

COMMEMORATED BY STURDY OAKS

High School Pupils Combine Memorial Services With Arbor Day Exercises.

TREES FOR SCHENLEY PARK

Pupils of the Pittsburgh public schools yesterday observed Memorial day in fitting fashion. Thousands of flowering plants were offered for the decoration of the graves of veterans, and in Columbus Grove, Schenley park, the students from the united high schools of the city planted sturdy oaks to commemorate the lives of former principals and events in the history of that institution. Director E. M. Bigelow superintended the tree-planting and made a speech.

The exercises began at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon in one of the shelter houses near Columbus grove. Edward Rynearson, director of high schools, and Superintendent George W. Burke of the bureau of parks, directed the work. Members of the central board of education, executive officers of the high schools and many of the patrons attended. After singing "Columbia, My Country," by a chorus of school children, D. L. Gillespie, president of the central board, made the opening address. He said in part:

Your task today is one of deep significance. You are about to place in this grove monuments like those which the Latin poet described as "more lasting than brass." Monuments that may stand a thousand years; monuments that, centuries hence, will still be increasing in stately majesty. When the thirtieth century dawns upon the world, every brick and stone of our splendid high school buildings will have vanished, but the oak trees planted by your hands, if spared by the generations that come after us, may still be standing then—still telling the tale of the High school's ancient glories.

Dedicated to Noble Purpose.

A thousand years! Think of it and marvel. And yet there is in Windsor forest an oak which shaded William the Conqueror, and from which perhaps the Druids a few centuries before cut the sacred mistletoe for their altars. If that English oak bears a charmed life, why not these of yours, which are dedicated to so noble an object?

Fifty years have passed since the High school came into existence. Fifty classes will have passed through that worthy institution and profited by its serviceable teaching. Five principals, every man of them capable, conscientious, exemplary in his life and in his method, will have exercised control and contributed each his quota to the development of the school and the enhancement of its usefulness. How suitable the tribute to be rendered to these. Fifty oaks are to spring up here in commemoration of those fifty classes; five in commemoration of the five principals. And in addition to these brave boys of the High school who, in the days of civil war put on the uniform of blue and offered their lives for the salvation of their country. In the whole history of the school there are no finer figures than these. True heroes every one, their names are the brightest ornament of its roster and deserve to be perpetuated with jealous care.

Planted Over 100 Trees.

Director Bigelow talked on "The Park and Its Trees," and Supt. Samuel Andrews made a short address on "The Observance of Arbor Day," saying that the planting of trees constituted one of the most beautiful and appropriate tributes which teachers and pupils could pay to God and nature. Prof. George M. Sleeth made a stirring speech, and Supt. Burke told the young people that the schools and the parks were very closely allied, and that he hoped the pupils would pay frequent visits there to increase their knowledge of botany. Dr. G. W. Allyn was the last speaker. The exercises closed with the singing of "America."

One hundred and thirty-two trees were planted. The first eight were oaks in memory of eight High school boys who enlisted for service in the civil war. The trees bore the label, "Pittsburgh High School, in Memory of the Boys in Blue, 1861-1865." Fifty oaks were planted in memory of the High school graduating classes in the last half century, and were labeled, "Pittsburgh High School Class, 1858," up to "Pittsburgh High School Class, 1905." Fifty oak trees were planted for teachers of the past, one label for the entire section bearing this: "Pittsburgh High School, in Memory of Faithful Teachers."

Five oak trees for the first five principals of the High school were labeled as follows: "Jacob La Grange McKown, A. B., Principal 1855-1856;" "Daniel H. A. McLean, A. B., Principal 1856-1859;" "Philotus Dean, A. M., Principal 1859-1871;" "Benjamin Cutler Jillson, M. D. Ph. D., Principal 1871-1880;" "Charles Bradley Wood, A. M., Principal 1880-1900."

Nineteen more trees were planted by the academic, normal and South Side classes and the practice rooms of the normal department, the trees being, respectively, sweet buckeye, American elm and tulip tree.

Flowers donated by the public and parochial schools of Allegheny for the decoration of the graves by the Grand Army of the Republic posts of the North Side were gathered from the various school buildings yesterday afternoon. The flowers and plants were spread over the lawn on the West Diamond street side of City hall and last evening placed in wagons and taken away. The potted plants filled seven large moving wagons.

STOPS HIS CELEBRATION.

South Side Polish Lad Burns Woman While Shooting Firecrackers.

Celebrating Decoration day too early, and with firecrackers, brought Henry Pilchowski, aged 14, a Pole of 17 Enon alley, South Side, to grief last night. The boy lives on the second floor of the house with his parents, while the first floor is occupied by Mrs. Eleanore Polefski. Last evening while Mrs. Polefski was sitting on her front doorsteps enjoying the evening air, Henry began to celebrate, and his firecrackers fell upon the woman.

She notified him to desist, but it is alleged Henry paid no heed to her. About 9 o'clock Mrs. Polefski rushed into No. 7 police station and asked the police for aid. Her hair was badly burned and her clothing was filled with so many holes from the firecrackers that it is beyond repair. Henry was arrested and spent the night in the police station.

WINS IN SMITHFIELD STREET BRIDGE CASE

City Gains Several Hundred Thousand Dollars in Tolls from Traction Company.

A decision which means the gain of several hundreds of thousands of dollars in tolls to Pittsburgh was handed down in Harrisburg yesterday by Judge Weiss of the Dauphin county court, in a quo warranto action brought by the commonwealth against the Monongahela Bridge Company, a company maintained by the city, for the purpose of continuing the collection of tolls on the Smithfield street bridge fro mthe Pittsburgh and Birmingham Traction Company.

The bridge was purchased by the city from the Monongahela company in 1890 and the company was continued by the mayor, directors and solicitor acting as members of the company for the city. Under the agreement between thetraction and the bridge companies the traction company was to pay the bridge company about $17,000 in tolls annually. The traction company built an addition to the bridge for its cars, an dthe bridge company agreed to give the former credit in tolls as they were collected until the debt was canceled.

The city, when it became the owner of the bridge, undertook to continue this arrangement, but on behalf of the traction company the state attorney general five years ago begun an action to revoke the company's charter, held by the city, hoping to stop the city collecting tolls on street cars.

Arguments were made in the case in December and continued a month ago. Judge Weiss holds that therelation of the traction company to the bridge company or to the city of Pittsburgh does not give affront to the state. Judge Weiss therefore refused judgment of ouster and the bridge company continues to hold the bridge for the city.

The tolls due on the mithfield street bridge date from 1889 and it is stated the unpaid tolls are almost sufficient to cancel the debt incurred, held by the traction company for the building of the addition to the bridge.

A like suit regarding the Point bridge, which was also bought by the city under similar conditions, is pending in the Dauphin county court, and the effect of the decision yesterday will be that the city can collect tolls from the traction companies on both bridges.

WOMEN'S WOES

Many of the daily woes of womanhood are due to sick kidneys; but too many women fail to recognize kidney trouble when they have it, and kidney diseases are fatal if neglected too long.

When a woman's back aches from morning to night—

When she feels worn out after every bit of work she has to do—

When she cannot bend or stoop without suffering twinges of pain—

When she has constant headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains and urinary troubles—

When she has any or all of these ailments it is a sure sign that the kidneys are not doing their duty. Uric acid and other poisons that the kidneys should filter out of the blood are carrying disease into every part of the system.

Regard this as a danger signal. Recognize the kidneys as the cause of your many aches and pains and to cure the kidneys use a kidney medicine.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. The kidneys begin to do their work properly, and pure blood, the greatest system regulator, restores the whole body to health and strength.

PITTSBURGH TESTIMONY

Mrs. George Mitzelfelder, of 105 Virginia street, Mt. Washington, says: "I can only tell you, as I have told a number of others on different occasions, that Doan's Kidney Pills is the only good remedy I have ever found for backache and kidney trouble. I became convinced of their merit several years ago when I had been in bed for two weeks with backache. My doctor failed to relieve me and I was unable to get around at all. This was not my first attack, as I had been troubled with symptoms of kidney disorders for many years. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me entire relief, and whenever I suffer a spell from taking cold or any other cause, they always promptly stop the attack."

Kidney diseases cause more deaths than any other human affliction. This is because they come on so silently, and are, therefore, neglected.

When the kidneys are well, they remove from the body every day poisonous ounce of uric acid and other poisonous waste.

When the kidneys are sick, this poison is carried by the blood to every part of the body. It causes rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, sciatica, gravel, stone in the kidneys, heart disease, indigestion, diabetes and Bright's Disease.

Doan's Kidney Pills act promptly and give complete relief, because their influence is exerted directly upon the diseased tissues. This prediction has been curing sick kidneys for 12 years.

Tuesday, May 30, 1905.

It is of some interest that Pittsburgh is not only able to market its bonds readily at 3½ per cent interest, but that it has home institutions able to absorb them. Of the $2,000,000 filtration bonds offered yesterday the sinking fund took $1,370,000 and the Union Trust Company secured the remaining $630,000. The financial condition of the city is no better than that of its private institutions.

There is promise of good in the meeting at Rome yesterday for the organization of a permanent international agricultural congress. This movement started in a suggestion by a California gentleman, but has been given the sanction and aid of the king of Italy. It is expected by the king, as interpreted by his foreign minister, that this congress may promote both the peace and prosperity of the world.

Select council has, at last, passed the ordinance for regulation of the storage of explosives in the city and providing for an inspector at $2,500 a year. If this inspector does his full duty conditions can be made comparatively safe. If he simply draws his salary the people may assume they are protected until something happens. There should be provision for regular and detailed reports to a responsible officer.

A Rhinelander, Wis., genius is reported to have succeeded in condensing the essentials of lager beer so one drop of his mixture will make a whole glass of the foamy beverage. This kind may make Rhinelander almost as famous as Milwaukee, since it will enable a man to carry a keg of beer in his pistol pocket, but unless it will absolutely prevent adulteration it can hardly be regarded as a boon to ordinary humanity.

Andrew Carnegie's suggestions that peace should speedily follow Admiral Togo's victory and that President Roosevelt would be an ideal mediator may be accepted without reserve. There is less reason for his assumption that Japan is drunk with success, or may demand unreasonable terms. Japan wants a peace that will be lasting, that will protect her interests and open the east to world trade. No other will be worth while.

Canada has dropped its project for a steamship line to Mexico, as that country refuses to do anything for a line that will touch at Cuban ports. The latest project is for a line to Cuba touching at the Bahamas, for which the Canadian government has decided to offer a subsidy. That has become the universal policy now except with the United States, and the American merchant marine could not be expected to grow when it must depend upon its own resources to meet the competition of government aided foreign shipping.

To the surprise of Chairman A. G. Roenigk there was a full attendance at the meeting of his special committee on revenues yesterday. Moreover the committee got down to business and voted the city auditor should proceed at once to collect the sums due the city from various corporations. Street railways will be first to receive attention. This change of front on the part of the committee is remarkable, but is obviously because the forces in control have seen the handwriting on the wall. Considerable revenue should be realized from the sources discovered by Mr. Roenigk.

The case of Crete shows that even independence may be a grievance. The island now enjoys autonomy under the collective protection of the great powers. Popular sentiment is strongly in favor of annexation to Greece, and recently when the Greek flag was hauled down at the command of the powers and the flag of Crete run up again over the legislative hall there was great gloom among the people. An insurrectionary movement is now going on in the interior, prompted by the state of political unrest. It is a curious inversion of the usual situation and gives an enlarged view of the possibilities of public discontent.

An Epoch-Making Victory.

The importance of Admiral Togo's victory is underrated when it is compared to the battle of Trafalgar. In both cases the control of the sea was at stake, but while Nelson's victory was the turning point in the struggle between England and Napoleonic empire, it was not so decisive in its effect as Togo's exploit. Napoleon was left master of continental Europe, and it was not until 10 years later that his power was crushed at Waterloo. Admiral Togo's victory takes away from Russia all practical power of taking the offensive, and makes Japan's position in Korea and Manchuria impregnable.

The rise of Japan to the rank of one of the great powers of the world has been as sudden and unexpected as the rise of Prussia. It has come about in the same way, through patient preparation and perfection in scientific calculation of means and ends. On paper Russia had a great superiority of troops and ships. In actual strength her inferiority was as great as that of Austria and France was found to be when their armies came in contact with the Prussian military machine. Admiral Togo's victories were not won by preponderance of armament, but by superiority of skill. It was again the case of the man behind the guns. It is not the possession of tools, but the ability to use them which determines the result when there is anything approaching equality of equipment.

But the significance of Togo's victory is not to be measured by its effect upon the duel between Russia and Japan. In its effect upon world politics it marks an epoch. The extension of the western empire over the east, which has been going on ever since the time of Alexander the Great, has reached its limit. The supremacy of the white race in the world's affairs has been successfully challenged. True it is by a people which has acquired western civilization and has triumphed by its apparatus, but none the less the event is of deep racial significance and marks a new era in the world's affairs, with consequences too vast to be apprehended now, but which will be felt profoundly in the future.

Bridge Tolls Collectable.

Judge John Weiss of the Dauphin county court yesterday dismissed the quo warranto proceedings affecting the charter of the Monongahela Bridge Company. This attempt at ouster was incited by the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Traction company, when the bridge was acquired by the city of Pittsburgh and was designed to prevent the collection of tolls from the company's cars under an agreement made with the bridge corporation. By the decision of Judge Weiss the tolls may be collected by the bridge company, the stock of which is owned and controlled by the municipality.

This litigation has been pending for some years and the tolls now aggregate a tidy sum. To offset this there is a debt owed to the traction company, the balance of money advanced for erection of an addition to the structure. The city, however, is just that much ahead, as it would have been obliged to pay the debt in any event. The decision applies equally to the Point bridge and the West End Traction company, the latter having decided to await adjudication in the Smithfield bridge case. The tolls are now due and payable unless the companies decide to fight the case through the supreme court.

A Far-Reaching Decision.

The supreme court of the United States has rendered a decision of immense importance in the New York franchise tax cases. The Ford bill passed during Roosevelt's administration as governor of New York provided that the value of franchises held by corporations should be assessed for state and local taxation. The corporations have been resisting the taxes thus levied and after being defeated in the state courts, carried the case to the supreme court of the United States which has now decided against them.

The law went into effect in 1900 and arrears of taxes have been piling up ever since until they now amount to about $30,000,000, the bulk of which is due by New York city corporations. It is estimated that the city's share will amount to over $17,000,000, and it will hereafter have a large and increasing revenue from this source.

But the importance of the decision is far greater than is displayed in its immediate effect, large as that is. It opens a way by which communities can recover direct benefit from grants of public property made improvidently or treacherously by municipal authorities in the past. The greater the advantage taken of the public in this way the greater the exposure of the corporations concerned to the incidence of taxation. Since the principle is now settled that the franchises are taxable all that is necessary is to enact the New York law to secure similar results. At present in Pittsburgh, not only are the franchises of public service corporations enjoyed by them without compensation, but the corporations themselves are exempted from taxation upon their plants. This is a favoritism which can be ended by proper legislation. With the New York example before them people may become unwilling to pay their own taxes and those of the corporations too when by bringing the corporations under the assessment laws additional sources of revenue may be opened.

Applying More Air.

An order has been made by the Pennsylvania railroad increasing the cars that must be under control of air brakes from 50 to 60 per cent. The purpose is to avoid, if possible, the "buckling" of trains that has caused recent serious accidents. It is possible this measure may secure the desired result, though it must be remembered this will still leave a heavy string of cars free to press in from the rear. In a train of 60 cars 36 would have air and 24 would not. These might exert enough pressure to force one of their number out of its place.

It will not be many years until the cars of the Pennsylvania are equipped with the new friction draft gear and the new triple valves. Those devices will give the highest measure of safety. Yet the Pennsylvania will long afterward be compelled to carry the inferior cars of other companies. As the strength of a chain is its weakest link, so the strength of a train is equal to that of its weakest car. The trouble on the big trunk lines will be mainly with foreign equipment and it may require law with penalties attached to compel some to adopt the safety devices voluntarily introduced by others.

A Correct View.

Republican County Chairman Ford is quoted in our news columns for the belief that Gov. Pennypacker may be nominated for the vacancy on the supreme court bench. He sees no impropriety in acceptance of the nomination by the governor and he believes Mr. Pennypacker is just the kind of man who should be called to that honorable post. His ability and training qualify him in extraordinary degree for the high judicial position.

The Gazette agrees with the Republican county chairman that no impropriety is involved. It agrees heartily with the high estimate of Gov. Pennypacker's character and ability. He is possessed of the highest judicial qualities. If nominated for supreme court justice the governor may accept without violating any obligation to the people. He need not resign until after the election has been held. There are justices enough on the bench to care for the business before the court during the interval. The court will not sit until October and no public interest will suffer pending the election in November.

Fetch on the Oxford Dragon.

Mr. Carnegie's Diplodocus had hardly become comfortably ensconced in the British Museum before envious British scientists rounded up a rival. They unearthed a Cetiosaurus at Oxford some time ago, and have now set it up in the Geological Museum, making a great ado over the fact that its thighbone is six feet long. Besides this thighbone they have produced only the giant reptile's caudal appendage, but upon these few bags of bones they base the claim that England has bigger, better and more fossils than America. This may be conceded outside the domain of natural history, but in that field we will never surrender our supremacy. The Oxford Dragon's tail cannot convince loyal Americans that the antediluvian monsters of the tight little island could hold a candle to those that roamed our vast plains and through our deep forests. However, since the arrogant Britons have shied their castor into the ring it behooves Americans to take it up and diversify international sport by a paleontological meet.

Salisbury Plain, where Stonehenge stands, or Coney Island, where Leif Ericson landed, might appropriately be chosen for the contest. It might open with an Ornithorhynchus race, to be followed by a swimming match between Plesiosaurians. Prizes should be awarded for the biggest Pterodactyl eggs and the finest Archaeopteryx plumes. A cake-walk could be arranged for Cheirotheria, an eisteddfod for the Compsognathuses, and a cricket or football game between Ichthyosauruses and Sivatheriums. As a grand finish, they could trot their Oxford Dragon out against our Diplodocus Carnegie, with Director W. J. Holland and Lord Avebury as referees, and the rivalry of speed, endurance and grace could be settled for good and all. No patriotic American need fear the outcome of such a contest—our fossils would win out as easy as picking Lipton Shamrocks.

The Problem of Life.

But in all this work, and no matter how successful it proves to be, Prof. Loeb does not create life. He does not take a dead egg and make it live. Instead, he makes the egg that was already alive develop. He merely drives the problem of life back into the egg itself, where it lies as deeply hidden as ever from the scientist's eyes.—Chicago Record-Herald.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

What of this day?

Does it bring to mind memories sweet and pleasant to contemplate, or does it only suggest a holiday?

Does the purpose for which it was set apart appeal to your heart and cause you to think of those who died in war that you might live in peace?

Does it impress you as being a day different from other days?

Maybe not, but that is only the worse for you, since it proves you to be ungrateful for the greatest favors that brave and valiant men can bestow on those who follow them in life.

While many there be to whom the day has no special significance there are those, and their names are legion, who accept it and observe it in a becoming manner and with the spirit of true patriots.

To these it is a Sabbath day indeed, a day of rest and recollection—recollection of those who heard the call of their country, and yours, to do battle for their homes and yours, and to utterly exterminate the spirit of disunion, so that for all time this should remain one country and one people, with one flag, Old Glory, with every stripe and every star.

Does the day suggest all this to you?

It has been full two score years since Old Glory was restored to its sovereign right, to be the one and only flag of the nation.

Since then how grandly it has borne itself aloft, and how proudly it has floated o'er the seas, and how kindly it has been received and honored by every other nation on the face of the earth.

At the time of its restoration it was little more than a mere rag in the eyes of foreign potentates, and commanded the respect of comparatively few beyond the limits of our own land.

What a change, my countrymen, since then! Today the most respected and most highly honored flag that floats anywhere.

And what is more, it is not respected through fear, but because it represents a people worthy of respect, and institutions of acknowledged worth and superority.

And all this within little more than half a span of life.

Nor is it a matter too trifling to be proud of—that it is everywhere conceded to be the brightest, the cheeriest and altogether the handsomest flag that floats on sea or land.

Nor yet is it merely a thing of beauty. It is a thing of power, mighty, irresistable power that opens wide the gates of commerce in every part of the world and brings to our gates the best of all the world produces.

"God made that flag," exclaimed Gen. A. J. Vaughn, the famous confederate cavalry commander, after peace had been declared and Old Glory reinstated.

Great was the cost of that war, but greater the blessings that have followed, and we have scarcely begun to receive them.

Is it not right that we should join in honoring the memories of those who made these blessings possible? Is it not the duty, the sacred duty, of everyone who is enjoying these blessings to join in thanking heaven for them, and in honoring those who fought, suffered and died to secure them?

This, then, is the day set apart by the nation for the people to give expression to their thankfulness for all the good and great and glorious things they enjoy under the protecting folds of our beautiful, honorable, beneficent flag.

Are we less thankful than those who lived two and three decades past?

Possibly we are less mindful of the events of the war, for they are farther away, but let us hope we are none the less thankful.

Comrade W. W. Tyson, commander of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, Erie, Pa., happily recalls one of the earlier Decoration days:

Dear Quiet Observer:—It has been a long time since it was my pleasure to see you, but have kept in touch through your ever interesting column.

Remembering that you never fail to give your readers a Memorial day column, I take the liberty to send you a copy of a poem written by Miss Sue Nichols, who was one of the many who sent nero sweethearts to the war who never returned. The One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Pennsylvania volunteers, Gen. Collier's regiment, had as its lieutenant-colonel Samuel Moody and he laid down his life at Cool Harbor, June, 1864.

The poem was written for the Memorial day exercises of 1874 for post No. 88, and was read by Col. Richard Realf. Judge John M. Kirkpatrick presided and Capt. Arms delivered the oration. All of these and many other prominent people who took part on that day have answered the roll call, including Miss Nichols, Gen. William Blakely, Henry Warner and Abe Patterson. Yours fraternally,

WILLIAM W. TYSON.

DECORATION DAY, 1874.

When burst the shell o'er Sumpter's wall
That sped from hands of southern foemen,
Out flashed rebellion. At the call
Up rose the hardy northern yeoman—
From lake-bound shore the legions came,
From ocean main to broad Sierras;
The gathering host, with warning drum,
Sweep eastward o'er the wild pfairies.

Columbia! Peerless queen of worlds,
Reels 'neath the blows that should defend her.
Her diadem of starry pearls
Assunder torn and dimmed in splendor;
Her wayward southern sons in rage,
With haughty pride and blinded reason,
Fling at her feet the vaunting gage,
And stain her flag with bloody treason.

Well may these mustering thousands go—
Well may each loyal heart beat faster—
For streams of patriot blood must flow,
To stem the tide of war's disaster.
And never yet was insult met
By swifter doom or vengeance luster,
And ne'er will heroes names be set
On scroll of fame in brighter luster.

Oh, foulest wrong to proudest flag
That ever kindled love of freemen,
Or floating high as mountain crag,
Spread wide its folds to shelter seamen,
Mount higher then, and prauder wave
Shine out in stripes of added splendor—
For bond of every fettered slave
Was rent by blood of brave defenders.

Where sleep they now, and who can tell
The graves that wrap their dreamless slumber?
Not till the ocean waves shall swell
Their requiem songs in countless numbers—
Not till the east wind murmuring by
Shall bring to us its mournful story
Of whispered prayer, or latest sigh,
When life ebbed out on field of glory.

No fitter meed to honored dead
Than flowery nature's first donation,
Culled from a soil so richly fed
By blood poured out in pure libation.
Then weave sweet flowers and immortelis
O'er sodded mound and lettered marble,
And let wakened dirges swell
To blend with notes of song bird warble.

And offering these shall we forget
That many sleepers, still and pallid,
Fill nameless graves no tear has wet,
Or woman's tender touch has hallowed?
Then tears for these, and flowers for all
In graves strewn here or scattered yonder,
Where kiss of love may never fall,
Or foot of friend or foeman wander.

Oh, holy peace! sweet white-winged dove!
On altar here lay thy oblation
To bind anew a sundered nation—
No more the Blue or Gray, beyond
Where war no human strife may sever,
But one broad brotherhood in bond,
They live forever, and forever.

SUE B. NICHOLS.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 29.—If our own Admiral Dewey had been the commander of the fleet that played so much havoc with the Russian ships off the coast of Korea, there could have been little more enthusiasm than has been displayed over the sweeping victory of Admiral Togo. Not since the days of the Spanish-American war has there been such a demand for all the "extras" the publishers could produce. Every hour today there has been an extra on the streets, with each one adding to the general detail of the disaster to the naval arm of the czar, and the newsboys have reaped a great harvest of pennies, some nickels and a few dimes. Many were so anxious to get into the news that they even forgot their change, and the little merchants of the streets were entirely too busy to run after them and call their attention to their forgetfulness. The least excited of all the people in New York today and yesterday were these ever-busy little fellows in the Japanese colony. They never have time to become excited, and the news of the great victory was accepted by them as a matter of course, something entirely to be expected.

Sadazuchi Uchida, the Japanese consul to New York, scarcely even smiled when asked for details of the affair. He knew nothing more than he was told by the newspapers, it is true, but even that was enough to bring a smile to the face of any ordinary patriot, whose country is making history on the right side of the ledger. "Admiral Togo simply fathomed the plans of the Russians and acted accordingly, as we knew he would," said Mr. Uchida. Then to show that he can talk real United States, he added: "The question of peace is now up to Russia. I do not believe she can continue the war, because of her internal dissensions and financial troubles." Dropping into another Americanism, and this time he smiled just a little, he said: "The old man certainly did great work."

The Work of One Woman.

When President Roosevelt visits Brooklyn tomorrow he will see probably the most complete Young Men's Christian association building in the country. Although this particular branch, built by Miss Helen M. Gould for the benefit of the men behind Uncle Sam's big naval guns, has been in operation for three years, very little is known about it. Miss Gould expended nearly $500,000 in the work, and its success has justified her in her whims of a charity. More than 288,000 men have used the building each year since it was opened. Last year more than 50,000 men used it as a lodging house, and more than 100,000 ate meals there. More than $250,000 was deposited in its bank last year for safe keeping and on all of it interest was paid. Many of the men take advantage of the fact that money can be transmitted through the bank to relatives in all parts of the world. In the building the sailors are offered every facility that can be had in a first-class club—barring the drinking facilities—and the man who has no money to pay the small fees is made just as welcome as the man behind the purse.

Great Good Is Being Done.

No one is more pleased with the good work—if we except Miss Gould—than the officers of the navy yard and the ships which berth there. In the old days, before the building was erected, many of the saloons in the neighborhood furnished cheap, and sometimes free, lodgings for the sailors, but they expected a good patronage over the bar to make up for the seeming charity. Since there is a place with a purer atmosphere these saloon lodgings have gone begging, there is more sobriety, and the officers are very emphatic in their indorsement of the good work that the munificence of Miss Gould has made possible. The president will have an opportunity of looking about him tomorrow to see for himself what a great work it is, for he will be tendered a reception in the building, at the invitation of Miss Gould.

Fitch Yet to Be Heard From.

The following statement is given out by the press agent of Theodore Kremer. Its importance can be appreciated only after several readings: "Theodore Kremer, the well-known playwright, will spend his annual vacation abroad this summer, sailing on the Kronprinz, May 30 (decoration day). Mr. Kremer will devote most of his time in Berlin, where he will personally conduct the production of 'The Woman in the Case,' Clyde Fitch's latest play, which Mr. Kremer has adapted for the German stage. Mr. Kremer has been collaborating with Mr. Fitch in several offerings that will be seen here the coming season. Mr. Fitch, who is already abroad, will visit Mr. Kremer in the German metropolis."

Automobile Stage Up the Hudson.

The rich residents along the eastern bank of the Hudson river are going to have automobile stages to travel in, the Tarrytown Motor Fallo-Ho Company having just been incorporated at the White Plains county clerk's office, with a capital of $50,000. The company will operate automobile stages between North Tarrytown, Irvington, Ardsley club, Dobbs Ferry and Hastings. The cars are to be 17-passenger tonneau style, and will run between the different points every hour.

Danger from Explosives.

One way to minimize the dangers attending the transportation of explosives would be to make the rates of freight on dynamite and other nitroglycerin compounds so high as to discourage their use for blasting, quarrying or other industrial purposes. There are numerous nitro powders available of more stable character, which will not explode by concussion, which when ignited by fire will merely burn, and which can be detonated only by means of a fulminating cap.—Philadelphia Record.

Colleges and Students.

There are 472 colleges in the United States, 11 of them founded before the revolution, half of them founded since the civil war. In these colleges there were, in 1897, 81,955, and in 1902, 98,870 students pursuing college courses, about five-eighths of whom were male students. This means roughly that our of every two of the population one is a college student.—Chautauquan.

The Steamships and Immigration.

That the trans-Atlantic steamship lines should enter into a conspiracy with certain European governments to bring over to America and dump here the convicts, paupers and other charges upon public charity, thus putting money into the purse of the steamship lines and riddling the governments of costly and undesirable citizens, is despicable.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

TAXING FRANCHISES

Supreme Court Upholds the New York Law.

The decision of the United States supreme court yesterday upholding the franchise tax in New York state completes the victory in the fight started by President Roosevelt when he was governor of New York in order to make corporations pay a fair tax on their franchises which he insisted should be considered as realty. The bill introduced by Senator Ford made a provision that attracted the attention of Gov. Roosevelt who took hold and pushed the matter with characteristic energy. He sent special messages to the assembly which attempted to postpone the matter and in the closing days of the session he was especially urgent. In order to have the provisions of the bill conform to his ideas of a just assessment he called a special session of the legislature to perfect it. The burden of the taxation fell on corporations in New York city, who immediately took the case to the courts. They obtained the jurisdiction of the United States supreme court by the claim that their property was about to be taken without due process of law.

Vast Public Gains.

It is estimated that the decision will bring $20,000,000 into the treasury of New York state. For Manhattan alone the amount due is $17,994,701.66, which includes $2,580,000 on the unpaid taxes. From all five boroughs the total amount due for taxes alone, without any calculation for interest or penalties, is $22,141,767. To this sum there is to be added at least $3,300,000 interest, and at least another $1,000,000 for penalties, which will bring the total up close to $27,000,000.

These figures bring the accounts down but up to June 1, and show what Comptroller Grout will be entitled to collect on that date. As soon as the decision is received Comptroller Grout will take steps to collect the money.

The City Expected to Win.

That the city would win the suit and collect the taxes has been anticipated all along by the city, and it has made its financial arrangements accordingly. Consequently a defeat would have completely upset all calculations upon which the city's financial arrangements have been made for the last three years. Next to the loss to the city treasury of $20,000,000 that had been counted upon, the most serious result would have been the effect on the debt limit. It would cut down the debt limit by more than one-third, and would in that way hamper the city and delay improvements.

The victory will by no means add $20,000,000 to the amount available for use in new improvements, as it will be devoted to redeeming revenue bonds which have been issued in anticipation of its collection. Besides this franchise tax the street railroad companies owe the city large sums for car licenses, the arrearages for which have been piling up for years and the dispute over which has been going on without any energetic effort being made by the city to collect it.

The Hardest Hit Corporation.

The hardest hit among the corporations will be the Metropolitan Street Railroad Company and the Consolidated Gas Company. In the list prepared by Mr. Grout the Metropolitan street railroad's tax appears under at least a dozen heads, the taxes being assessed under the name of the old companies before they were merged with the Metropolitan. The total amount owed by the Metropolitan will run into the millions. The same thing is true of the Consolidated Gas Company, which controls the lighting situation in New York. At least 10 different corporations appear on the list, but the Consolidated Gas Company is the central corporation out of which the tax must come.

The totals for each year, with interest, for Manhattan, are: 1901, $3,179,515.17; 1901, $4,382,167.59; 1902, $4,230,758.52; 1903, $2,295,778.01; 1904, to June 1, 1905, $2,986,732.67. The total interest for Manhattan is $2,880,950.

As these figures show, the tax has decreased in amount every year. Just why this is so is not apparent, as theoretically the value of the franchises should become greater every year. The fight against the franchise tax law has been a hard and stubborn one. The ablest corporation lawyers have been engaged in the effort to defeat it, and the battle has been carried all the way to the United States supreme court.

Answers to Correspondents.

James W. Mossey—In congress the presiding vice president votes only in case of a tie, while the speaker of the house responds regularly to the roll call. The same rule prevails in the state. In other words, a member of the body can vote when presiding officer, and a presiding officer not a member can vote only in case of tie.

A. L. F.—There are no national holidays. Holidays fall on the same date only when the states so provide. In some cases national attention may be called to the observance of holidays, but they cannot be enacted for the nation.

Greenland Cure for Consumptives.

Since Dr. Sohon's experiments seem to have demonstrated that it is impossible for tuberculosis germs to live in Greenland, and since his theories are substantiated by his own experience, the outcome of the present venture will be awaited with much interest by physicians as well as victims of this disease. The method outlined has been tried in Europe, but not on a sufficiently comprehensive scale to afford conclusive data.—Atlanta Constitution.

Alien Contract Labor.

The order of the Canadian court directing the deportation of the superintendent and 10 other officials of the Pere Marquette railroad as aliens brought into the country under labor contracts in violation of the law of the Dominion is logical enough, and serves its purpose as an illustration by means of the reductio ad absurdum of the kind of legislation cited.—New York Times.

THE BOYS IN BLUE.

Blessed be the memory of the sainted
Boys in Blue,
Who lived as loyal citizens and died as patriots true;
Who died to save this country beautiful
to me and you.

Their deeds are deeply graven on the tablets of the heart
And, glorious in their martyrdom, their fame shall not depart
While memory keeps the record of each nobly-acted part.

The last bugle call has sounded and now
they are at peace,
And from the warriors sorrows they have a sweet release,
While of the dreaded war alarms there is a calm surcease.

They knew their duty sacred and were brave enough to die,
And for their country yielded up their hearts without a sigh;
And glory guards each hallowed spot where valiant heroes lie.

But while we do them reverence and sing the sad refrain,
Have we no sigh for those who fell upon the battle plain—
Of southern blood, in southern climes,
the much misguided slain?

One beauteous hand uniting us, one banner for us all—
The Boys in Blue and Boys in Gray who fell beneath the pall;
Have we not sympathy enough and charity for all?

They are brothers now united, even those who lived and died,
Who fought against each other where noble hearts were tried,
And one international haunt is the universal pride.

GREAT SEA FIGHTS

Naval Encounters Which Have Made History.

The naval engagement in the straits of Korea will rank among the most important in history, for it was fought under new conditions, in which both sides were provided with the latest armaments. Great changes have taken place in the art of naval warfare since Actium, the last fight and in every respect the decisive quality of sea power has been marked, whatever the appliances have been.

In ancient times naval battles were waged between galleys and depended on the strength of their oars with the ability to ram the enemy following the with individual attacks by fire, swords, spears and the bow and arrow. The greatest battle of galleys was fought off the island of Salamis, when the Greeks mustered up courage in spite of the loss by desertions to meet the great sea power under Xerxes, which had invaded their ports and partly devastated the peninsula. The battle, fought September 20, 480 B. C., might be considered a revenge for Thermopylae, for it broke the power of the Persians and drove their scattered forces home.

The Passing of the Galley.

Many naval engagements followed, but the one which might be considered typical in representing the transformation of naval warfare was fought in 1571 off the town of Lepanto, on the west coast of Greece, when the naval power of the Turks was crushed. The Turks were then considered the most formidable military power in the world, and they were able to rally 300 vessels to oppose the aggregation collected by the allies composed of boats from Spain, Venice, Genoa, Malta, and those furnished by Pius V. The force included almost every known form of fighting ship and thousands of the sailors were galley slaves. It is said that as a result of this victory over 15,000 heathens obtained their freedom. It was here that Cervantes, the author of "Don Quixote," was severely wounded. Firearms had come into use and there was a mingling of weapons as well as variety in the character of vessels. At that period builders of navies were endeavoring to increase the size of the craft, while still keeping them seaworthy. They also tried to make the broadside guns have a wide range. Rams were substituted for oars, and it was the policy of the best commander to outmaneuver his opponent, so as to shut off his broadside and then drive through the center of the array, so as to divide the formation. If all this was successfully done the aggressor had an opponent at his mercy.

The Use of Sails and Broadside.

With the very beginning of this method of equipment and form of attack Philip II. in 1588 built a collection of ships known as the Armada, with which he proposed to invade and subjugate England, which the pope had bestowed on Spain. While the fate of the Armada can hardly be held to be due to conflict, it is interesting as illustrating the unworthiness of vessels that were constructed solely for fighting. Lord Howard attacked them in a desultory way, but the storms did the rest, for 72 were wrecked out of 131 that had sailed from Lisbon. They attempted to skirt the north of England and encountered a second disastrous storm, that drove the crushed remnant home.

The Battle of Trafalgar.

The importance of sea power as a factor in national destiny was conspicuously exhibited in 1805. Napoleon planned the conquest of England. The ship of the line was then huge, with broadsides sometimes exceeding 100 guns. France had made an alliance with Spain and the force of the two mustered 33 vessels. Lord Nelson took out 27 ships to meet them and for weeks he tried to find them. They finally met, on October 21, off Cape Trafalgar, on the south coast of Spain. It was then the signal, "England expects every man to do his duty," was flung out and after a severe engagement the ship commander was able to see the Frenchman surrender. Only 11 out of the 33 vessels of the allies escaped.

The Strength of Wooden Walls.

Wooden walls still served for the protection of the warship. In the revolution sea fights were mostly between individual vessels, for there were no great squadrons assembled. In the war of 1812 the navy played a more conspicuous part, and then the energy and resources of the American builder were taxed. The British had been controlling the great lakes, when Commodore Perry assembled a fleet which wrested this control from them in the famous battle of Lake Erie.

The Modern Ironclad.

The civil war brought the development of the metal-clad vessel into practical use. The unwieldy Merrimac of the Confederates was corrupted everything before her in Hampton Roads, when the little Monitor arrived on and drove her out of action. This was in 1862 and the remaining two years of the war gave ample opportunity for building other "cheese boxes" for service, but the monitor type was poor in cruising quality, so the wooden ship continued to hold its place in the navy. It was on the old wooden Hartford that Farragut sailed up Mobile bay in 1864, despite the torpedoes. Steam had been introduced as a propelling power, but sails continued auxiliary.

The First Real Battle.

The first real battle between modern ironclads was at the mouth of the Yalu river, September 17, 1894, when 12 Chinese warships met 11 of the Japanese and were defeated, losing four of their fleet. Then the Japanese, first showing their superiority as seamen, for the Chinese, who had several foreign commanders, were completely outclassed, Manila bay and Santiago are examples of the subjugation of ports by superior forces both in armament and personnel. While Admiral Dewey may not have known how much were the boats defending Manila bay, he was able to send them to the bottom without suffering injury. The American vessels that bombed the Spanish cruisers as they emerged from Santiago harbor were better manned and equipped, and with the exception of a return fire, they met with no aggressive resistance. The lesson of modern naval warfare appears to be that the personal factor is more important than ever before, is especially in the handling of such complicated engines as the modern battleship practically extinguishes defense. Both in the Spanish war and the present war, the crowded result of engagements has been the most remarkable feature.

WORTHY SUCCESSOR IS URGED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HOLLIDAYSBURG, May 29.—Never in the history of Hollidaysburg has there assembled so distinguished a body of men as gathered this afternoon to attend the funeral of Supreme Court Justice John Dean. There were supreme and superior court judges, county court judges, leading attorneys from different counties, high officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and friends and admirers of the dead jurist from every walk of life. Business was practically suspended this afternoon in Altoona, Hollidaysburg and Gaysport, and hundreds of the residents of the three places attended the services. Delegations also came from Frugality in Cambria county, founded by Judge Dean 30 years ago, and from Dean in Cambria county, named after the late judge. Three special trains were run to Hollidaysburg from Philadelphia, Williamsport and Altoona.

Two hundred lawyers and judges attended the bar association memorial service at the court house before the funeral. The Hon. Martin Bell, president judge of this county, presided and resolutions in memorium were presented by Attorney D. H. Greevy, an intimate friend of Judge Dean. Eulogies were delivered by the Hon. James T. Mitchell, chief justice of the state supreme court; Col. A. K. McClure of Philadelphia; Judge Charles E. Mayer of Lock Haven; A. L. Cole of Dubois; W. Mr. Hensel in his address declared: "The best tribute we can pay to his memory is to demand of the politicians of the state that the mantle of Judge Dean does not fall on shoulders it does not properly fit."

The funeral services were conducted at the Dean mansion by the Rev. Rutledge T. Wilbank, pastor of the Hollidaysburg Baptist church, assisted by the Rev. Edwin M. ADOPT RESOLUTION ON DEATH OF A FRIEND

County Officials and Others Pay Tribute to the Memory of J. Carson Mercer.

Judges, lawyers, court house officials and county employes gathered in the rooms of the Bar association yesterday to pay tribute to the memory of Commissioner John Carson Mercer. Mr. Mercer had been in the court house since 1879, and had a host of friends. The gathering yesterday was one of the largest memorial meetings ever held in the county building.

The meeting was presided over by Commissioner James A. Clark. The secretaries were John C. Brown and James E. Rogers. Addresses were made by William J. Brennen, County Solicitor T. B. Alcorn and P. W. Seibert, Controller R. J. Cunningham, Clerk of Courts F. X. Barr and Prothonotary W. B. Kirker were appointed to draft resolutions. The following memoriam was adopted:

In the death of J. Carson Mercer we are again reminded of the uncertainty of life and the certainty of the summons that awaits us all. Mr. Mercer was born in Pittsburgh January 2, 1848. After a protracted illness, he died at his home in this city Sunday morning, May 28, 1905, at 11 o'clock.

He was educated in the public schools of Pittsburgh, and at an early age engaged in the iron business, acquiring the trade of nail making. He left this work in 1879 when he was elected superintendent of the court house. He continued in this position until the death of his brother, Robert E. Mercer, a member of the board of commissioners. He was appointed by the court to succeed his brother as commissioner, and has been elected three times to this position. After the death of James G. Weir he was elected president of the board of commissioners, which honorable position he retained until his death.

Before he reached his majority he began to interest himself in politics, and was soon recognized by all who knew him as a man of influence and more than ordinary worth. His popularity and good judgment, making and retaining friends, caused the leaders of the Republican party, the politics of which he always espoused, and in the principles of which he firmly believed, early to recognize him and brought him prominently into public life. He represented the Twenty-fifth ward of Pittsburgh in select council for eight years. During his term in council some of the most important legislation was enacted for the benefit of Pittsburgh.

From his advent actively into politics his whole aim and ambition in life was to faithfully attend to his duties, and at no time neglect the trust reposed in him. While he was a member of the board of commissioners the assessed valuation of the county ran up marvelously, and many of the most beneficial public improvements were undertaken. All of the new county roads were built under his direction, the county home at Woodville was constructed and perfected, and the addition to the county jail, which, when completed, will make it one of the most remarkable institutions of its kind in the United States, is now well under way.

Of late years Mr. Mercer gave special attention to the question of road improvements, and came to be regarded the country over as an expert on all questions relating to them. His advice was sought almost daily by persons interested in road improvements. His interest in the subject never flagged, and even while he was at Atlantic City, with no hope of ever again sitting in his office, he kept himself advised as to the progress of the county's affairs, and matters pertaining to the county roads in particular.

There never was a more upright, careful and painstaking official of the public. His career was unusually marked by courtesy and justice, the performance of his duties never being prejudiced nor influenced by base motives. His life may truly be said to have been a success, and there are none here who will not cherish his memory.

Resolved, That this community has lost a good citizen, and the county of Allegheny an honest, capable and efficient official, and we his friends here assembled, a kind and true friend, and that a copy of this minute and resolution accompanying it be forwarded to his bereaved family as a mark of the affection and esteem in which he was held by all.

R. J. CUNNINGHAM,
F. X. BARR,
WILLIAM B. KIRKER,
Committee.

Funeral services over the remains will be held at the family residence in Heath street tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The county officials will be in attendance.

Steinway Pianos

Standard of the World
Why should the Steinway remain in a class by itself?
Because it is the ONLY piano that realizes the artist's ideal—the only one that completely satisfies those who demand perfection of a musical instrument.
The Steinway never would have been adopted by the world's foremost pianists and the royal courts of Europe were it anything but pre-eminent—the one piano by which the merit of all others is measured.

Prompt Payment
In the early days of the Equitable, its founder, Henry B. Hyde, said:
"Losses by death need not disturb us in the least—The Equitable is in business to pay losses."
Adhering to this principle the Equitable's policy has always been to pay its claims immediately upon receipt of satisfactory proofs of death—
During 1904 the record of claims paid was as follows:
Total claims paid.....5,476
Paid within one day...4,384
Paid within one week..4,971
Paid within one month 5,364
Practically the only thing that ever delays the payment of an Equitable claim is a defect in the proofs of death—necessitating further correspondence.
It's a great satisfaction to know that if anything should happen to you there would not be haggling or delay in providing your estate with ready money to meet the emergency.

AGENTS DESERT MR. ALEXANDER

Active Men in the Equitable Are Going Over to James H. Hyde.

WOULD RECALL HARSH WORDS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, May 29.

Deserting the standard of James W. Alexander and Guge E. Tarbell, many agents and managers of the Equitable Life Assurance society all over the country are said to be flocking to James H. Hyde, the first vice president, and leaders among them are desirous of calling another convention in this city to repudiate the action taken by them at the Hotel Savoy last month, when resolutions denouncing Mr. Hyde were passed.

Though Mr. Hyde would neither confirm nor deny the report today, its truth was vouched for by various agents, who called at the Equitable building. This change of front on the part of the active men in the company, is also given as the explanation for the circular letter sent out by Mr. Alexander, quoting his counsel as saying that the decision of Judge Maddox in the Lord suit with reference to the mutualization plan, was untenable, "erroneous and startling," the desire of the subscribers being to hold in check the movement of the agents to Mr. Hyde.

It is said to be the desire of the agents now to adopt resolutions of confidence in Mr. Hyde, and assure him that they are convinced that the charges made against him are false and lacking in proof. Mr. Hyde is opposed to the calling of another convention, informing those who called upon him in reference to it that he did not think it necessary, and that furthermore he was opposed to a reviving of an unpleasant matter.

It was also learned today that after the Savoy Hotel convention the power of Mr. Tarbell to make promotions was taken from him and placed in the hands of the executive committee. This had the effect of lessening his power with the agents and managers.

PRESIDENT OF HARVARD VISITS PITTSBURGH

Dr. Charles W. Eliot Tells Local High School Pupils of Their Educational Advantages.

Dr. Charles William Eliot, president of Harvard university, gave some timely advice to the students of the Pittsburgh High schools and Shadyside academy on his visit to Pittsburgh yesterday. Dr. Eliot stopped off here on his journey from Louisville to Buffalo and was as extensively entertained by Harvard men in Pittsburgh as his brief sojourn would permit. A luncheon was given at the Duquesne club in his honor by a number of the Harvard alumni. This morning Dr. Eliot will leave for Buffalo, where he will make the principal address at the dedication of a new art gallery.

President D. L. Gillespie of the central board of education introduced the distinguished visitor at the High school. Dr. Eliot said in part:

Not more than 7½ per cent of the children of the United States can go to a secondary school like this—and this is an increase over the proportion 20 years ago. This privilege should give you a broader view of the world; a better knowledge of nature; should lead you into the delights of literature, of poetry and of art. It should give you an appreciation of the beautiful. This last is a very high object of education, not always fully realized by educators. Why is this important? Because if we try to state the fundamental object of democratic education, it will be:

"First—To increase the pleasureable emotions of life, not for individuals, but for the mass of the people. Now the development of a sense of the beautiful is one of the principal means for increasing the enjoyment of life."

But the democratic idea has another purpose—the development of character. And character is usually found at the period of life at which High school pupils are; those who come to a university usually come with character already shaped and for the most part unchangeable.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, May 29.—The first working session of the international congress called to discuss the proposal of King Victor Emmanuel made at the instigation of David Lubin of Sacramento, Cal., to establish an international chamber of agriculture, took place this afternoon at the Corsini palace in the presence of the diplomatic corps and all the delegates. Foreign Minister Tittoni delivered a speech welcoming the delegates and outlining the object of the congress.

The congress adjourned until Tuesday, when the discussion of the king's proposition will begin. Mr. Lubin was not present at today's session of the congress, as he is not a delegate. The American delegation sat between those of Ecuador and Great Britain.

Utley and Miss Belle Bradley, the donors; an address by Mrs. Charles W. Smith, who accepted the gift on behalf of the members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, and addresses by the Rev. SIX YEARS AGO
THE DIRECTORS OF THE Canada Life Assurance Co.
VOLUNTARILY DECIDED THAT
Policyholders Should Share in the Management

IT IS NOT REQUIRED that Canada Life policyholders be present at the Annual Meeting. That would mean that only a few would ever exercise their privilege.

Canada Life Policyholders, wherever they live, can vote by thousands for Directors
THIS IS MOST IMPORTANT

Read the following extracts from an act respecting the Canada Life Assurance Company passed by the Dominion Parliament, 10th July, 1899:

AT ALL MEETINGS at which directors are to be elected, a policyholder whose policies in force amount to three thousand dollars or upwards, exclusive of bonus additions or profits, upon which the full premiums for two years or more have been paid shall be entitled to vote for the election of directors in the manner herein provided.

A POLICYHOLDER being a man of the full age of twenty-one years, whose policies in force amount to ten thousand dollars or upwards, exclusive of bonus additions or profits, and upon which the full premiums for five years or more have been paid, shall be eligible for election by the policyholders as a director of the Company.

THE ELECTION of Directors by policyholders shall be by the majority of votes of those entitled to vote for their election present at the meeting or represented by proxy.

The Canada Life is yearly inspected by the Dominion Government Superintendent of Insurance, who is a non-political, permanent officer.

N. B.—The Canada Life, founded in 1847, holds stronger policy reserves than any other old-established life company on this continent.

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists, and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.

A May Night at the Theaters

IN A NUTSHELL

NIXON—"Checkers" Is a Good American Melodrama Played by Some Very Fine American Players.

BIJOU—"Sis Hopkins" and Rose Melville Make a Good Combination Out of a Poor Play.

GRAND—First-Rate Vaudeville.

DUQUESNE—"Me Him and I" Still Create Laughter.

THOMAS W. ROSS
In "Checkers" at the Nixon.

Nixon—"Tommie" Ross in "Checkers."

It is not a difficult problem to understand the immense popularity attained by Henry M. Blossom's dramatization of his own race track story, "Checkers." It is a puzzle to understand why any American reader of plays, who knows anything about American theatergoers, should have turned down such a play, as it is said one did. "Checkers" is saturated with good, warm, red native blood. It is a melodrama; it is obvious and in the last act trails along pretty hopelessly, sometimes, but it is American to the core and grips you by the heart with its full, free sense of nativity. Then, too, "Checkers" is well played. It teems with characters, not all of them, indeed, but a few of them made to measure, but are live, flesh and marrow men of their own health. They breathe the Arkansas air, and are redolent of the soil. These things make "Checkers" the popular thing it is—these and "Tommie" Ross. If I had a mind to grow technical or didactic I could find plenty of faults with the play from the construction side. It is melodrama of a certain obvious type that we have grow accustomed to associate with popular prices, but it rises so high in some of its sentiment and broadens and deepens so admirably in some of its character drawing that the American who is one whit kin to his native soil and has a spark of good old-fashioned American "sport" in him is bound to like the play.

I shall not recite at length the story. It opens in Hot Springs, Ark., with the fortunes of a young fellow who has followed up to that time, successfully, the fortunes of the race track. He is an honest fellow, so far as standards of fair dealing go, but he is suspected of leading astray another young man. Friends have come to reclaim this prodigal and take him back to Clarksville, Ark. Among the number is a young woman. Checkers, whose right name is Campbell, sees this young woman, meets her under odd circumstances, falls in love, and the whole course of his life is changed. There is parental opposition, a jealous rival, and finally, Checkers is driven away with the understanding that until he can earn $5,000 he shall never have the girl. Then comes the story of the bet at the ringside in Chicago, when he breaks his promise to the girl and stakes the $50 gold piece that she has given him as a keepsake. Of course, he wins at a long shot and goes back to Clarksville just in time to stop a run on his prospective father-in-law's bank. This is all obvious enough, and but for Mr. Blossom's clever grip all the way through on your native American spirit you would say it was common enough—beyond the footlights. But it is told so refreshingly, and the character touches are so humorous, and the love-making so tender that you right away vote it a great play. The first act is sprightly, the second sentimental and humorous with its love-making, its village types and the pickaninnies, the third is exciting to fever heat with its race, and the fourth thoroughly theatric and the weakest of the four.

Thomas W. Ross, or as theatergoers hereabouts affectionately call him, "Tommie," plays Checkers admirably. He has gained in repressive power, has caught a certain quick, alert grasp of himself and of his character, that gives him at times wonderful command of his audience. There are faults of enunciation and inflection, there are times when he seems too obviously to be studying his pauses more for effect than as the mental process would demand, and he gives one the far-off suggestion at other times that he has Nat Goodwin or Willie Collier in his acting mind's eye; but for all these he is a fine young type of American actor, wholesome, clean looking and clear-colored, a credit to the city that claims him and an honor to the American stage. In response to repeated calls last night Mr. Ross made a neat speech of greeting and proved by the earnestness of his words that he was really glad to be "back home again."

The play is sensibly and capably cast. Dave Braham's "Push" Miller, the race track tout, is a notably strong impersonation. It is free of mannerisms, full of unctuous humor and, so far as I know, correct. Mr. and Mrs. Willard, two capital players, play "Uncle Jerry" and "Aunt Deb" respectively, and do fine work. Miss Katherine Mulkins makes a delightfully sweet and winsome Pert Barlow, the sweetheart of Checkers. The "Bud," "Hi" and "Lem" of Messrs. Cooper, Lee and Warren are humorous, if at times overdrawn. Miss Lydia Dickson must be credited with a capital piece of character work as Cynthia. It is one of the most carefully wrought sketches in the play. Mr. Wilkes plays the miserly Barlow well and Mr. Clark's Judge Martin is thoroughly typical of his class. Mr. Worsley as Arthur Kendall, Miss Powers as Mrs. Logar and Mr. Smith as Jamison are among the others who do good work. The cast is a large one, including a band of dancing pickaninnies, who add color but not interest, to the progress of the play, though the audience last night seemed highly diverted by them.

CHARLES M. BREGG.

Bijou—Rose Melville as "Sis Hopkins."

Miss Melville's annual visit to Pittsburgh with her Posey county, Ind., maiden is being paid at the Bijou this week. "Sis Hopkins" is not the most intelligent specimen of dramatic authorship that you will find, but there are thousands of people who have learned to love the quaint character that Miss Melville has created. There are few changes in the impersonation. Perhaps the "thinness" of the drama by which "Sis" is surrounded is made a little more apparent by the exceedingly poor work of several members of the present cast. Exceptions are found in the singing of Miss Cossar and the acting and dancing of Mr. Hume, who is still the Bart Varnum of the play. Mr. Morrell's Vibert is fairly good, but the rest of the cast fails to meet even the rather indifferent demands of a play written around a character. This character Miss Melville has greatly elaborated. Indeed, the elaboration is overdone sometimes on the side of its comedy. In the latter part of the third act and throughout the fourth Miss Melville does acting that proves her versatility. Sis Hopkins is a pleasing personage. To the Bijou audiences she is immensely entertaining, and the excellent music of Director Wolf's orchestra, including a euphonium solo by Mr. Caputo, give the performances an added value. Children from the various orphan asylums have been invited by Manager Frick to attend the Wednesday matinee.

Grand—Vaudeville.

The Grand offers a rich harvest of fun to theatergoers this week in the variety and excellence of its vaudeville. Chief of these in the favor of the crowd that attended last night is the "The Impostor" presented by May Duryea and Mr. A. Mortimer. The breezy little playlet was well put on and in the unique character of its subject, a chieftain turning lunatic for the sake of saving a charming actress from going to the Philippines as a nurse, presents abundant opportunity for all sorts of ludicrous episodes. In the way of athletic entertainment the work of Rose Aguinaldo, the terrestrial artist, is away above the average of vaudeville art and was warmly recommended on all sides. Some of her stunts are so difficult as to be almost wonderful. The Tasmanian troupe of four women acrobats also gave a splendid exhibition of gymnastic skill. Joseph F. Sheehan, who always brings a large crowd of his friends to hear his magnificent tenor voice, found them all there to listen last night, while he rendered a quartet of popular airs. Another well paid contributor to the fun, judging by the reception he was accorded, was Walter C. Kelly, the celebrated dialect comedian. In his impersonation of "The Virginia Judge" he displayed all the old-time talent that has made his name a familiar and welcome one with Pittsburgh theatergoers for years. A clever bit of real humor was brought out in the rural comedy, "Fun at Griggs' Corners," where the usual type of country eccentrics were exaggerated to a point that was side splitting. What they omitted in this display of rural oddities was fully made up in the work of three other "Rubes," Dixon, Bowers and Dixon, whose deaf and dumb specialties were among the most laughable events of the evening. Not the least enjoyable of the musical numbers was the violin playing of the Rice family, which was of a fine tone and done with a degree of skill that entitles it to a hearty praise.

Stock Company at McKeesport.

The Harris stock company opened a summer season yesterday at Olympia park, near McKeesport, the initial bill being that mirthful comedy, "My Friend from India." Eugene Moore as Charles Underholt; Paul Burns as his son, Erastus, and Dennie Harris as Augustus Keene Shaver, the barber posing as a necromancer from India, were the chief funmakers. Virginia Cranno as Gertie Underholt, Bessie Stevenson as Marion Haste, Jewell Powers as Bernetta Underholt, and Paula Gloy as Tilly, were each seen to excellence advantage. Wilson Melrose, Joseph Woodburn, Frederick Esmelton contributed much to the success of the piece.

Duquesne—"Me, Him and I."

This exceedingly popular skit with Bickel, Watson and Wrothe began its third and last week at the Duquesne last night. Three weeks is the record of the Duquesne under the present management and still the public does not seem to have had enough of the three funny circeus clowns. Harry Watson is one of the best tramp comedians on the stage, and the three men give "Me, Him and I" its sole value.

"Checkers" Matinees.

During the two weeks' engagement of "Checkers" which opened at the Nixon last night it is predicted that the popular-priced Wednesday matinees of each week will be largely attended when 50 cents for any seat, no higher, is the magnetic price. A special decoration day matinee will be given today at prices 25, 50, 75 cents and $1, the same as usually given on Saturday.

Mr. Sheehan's Songs.

On Thursday and Friday night Joseph F. Sheehan, who is at the Grand, will sing by special request the finale of the first act in "Il Pagliacci," a song which he rendered with such success during his engagement at the Nixon some time ago when he was with the Savage opera company.

MANY GUARD RECRUITS FOR THE ENCAMPMENT

Armories of Two Local Regiments and Battery Resound With Tread of New Soldiers.

Both the Fourteenth and Eighteenth regiments of infantry and Battery B, the Pittsburgh National Guard organizations, are making ready for the coming encampment, which will be held at Erie about the middle of July. At the three armories the tread of "rookies" learning to "guide right" and "order arms" is heard, intermingled with the chorus of "One! Two! Three!" as the drillmaster puts them through the work.

Recruiting now is an easy task, for there are scores of young fellows who are eager to enlist in order that they may have the outing which the encampment gives. From the mass of material offered the captains of the companies are selecting many promising recruits, it is stated, and the appearance of Pittsburgh's soldiery is likely to be better on inspection day this encampment than ever before.

The battery, especially, is making efforts at present to secure a certain class of members, in which the officers feel an improvement could be made. The organization wants drivers and has openings for about 15 men.

Fire Company for Emsworth.

Following up the Clifton wreck which showed the need for a fire company, a meeting was held at Emsworth last evening to form a volunteer organization. Chairman J. M. Slattery appointed A. C. Rapp, Edward Beilstein and W. H. Morrison a committee to investigate similar local companies and submit a plan of organization.

New Man for the Tech.

Prof. S. S. Keller of the chair of mathematics of Wittenberg college, Springfield, O., has accepted the position of professor of mathematics of the Carnegie Technical schools, and will come to this city in a few weeks to aid in arranging for the opening of the institution in the fall.

Engaging News for the Eyes of Women

Cancelled orders on ready-made garments stared Eastern manufacturers in the face and we accepted their liberal propositions with alacrity, bought heavily of all those garments that women like for Summer wear, bought them for prices that enable us to make astonishing quotations, and from among the great gathering we select the following for your reading today:

Silk Shirtwaist Dresses, $7.00, Worth $15 and $16.50

100 new Summer Silk Dresses, all with tucked waists, pleated and flared gored skirts. Some of the suits are plain, others have piping or trimming. Blue, brown, black.

Fancy Silk Dresses, $12.75, Worth $18.00 to $25.00

Plain and mottled effects. All neatly and prettily trimmed, in styles of midsummer—all made within the past fortnight. Some of the waists fasten down back and have yoke effect of lace, new full sleeves; some of the skirts have as many as fifty tucks, tight from waist to knee, graceful flare at foot. All made with hem. Reseda green, navy blue, brown, black.

Shirtwaist Dresses, $3.75 and $5.00, Worth $5.50 to $8.50

This is an interesting group made of dress cottons—some of the prettiest styles that we have yet seen in fine madras and dimities. Summer Weight Suits of Cloth, $17.00, Worth $32.00 to $50.00

Very dressy suits in light weight fabrics, Panamas, Drap d'Ete Voile and Serge, coffee coat effects, blouses and several very late styles.

Quite a collection of these skirts in plain and mixed cloths, a variety of styles, all bought for this special occasion.

An Extraordinary Transaction

IN CANCELLED ORDERS OF CHICAGO STORES

A Remarkably Economical and Most Timely Sale

Beginning in This Store Tomorrow

FOR more than a month past employers and employes in Chicago have been engaged in a controversy. It has been an unfortunate condition, and in no one way has it been more unfortunate than in Compelling the Great Retail Stores and Wholesale Establishments of That City to Cancel Their Large Orders with Eastern Manufacturers and Importers.

This cancellation has been very broad—heavy orders for ready-made garments were cancelled, so were those for summer woolen materials and cotton fabrics, to say nothing of many other classes of goods having daily outlet in retail stores. This meant but one thing, manufacturers and importers literally stampeded to turn the goods thrown back on their hands, into other channels, and to accomplish this quickly

They Offered the Most Clean-Cut Reductions in Prices Ever Known to Eastern Retailers.

We went after these cancelled stocks with a determination to give our public such a surprise in the matter of underprices for newest goods, that the occasion will be one to be carried in memory for a long time.
Our purchases were very, very heavy, and beginning tomorrow everybody is cordially invited to come and select from these goods

For Prices from a Third to a Half Less Than They Were Intended to Be Retailed in Chicago.

In connection with this remarkable and timely sale we shall add something that would not have been thought of at present, namely:

The Throwing Out, on Same Generous Lines of Reduced Prices, Many Spring and Summer Goods from Our Large Reserve Stocks.

The leading features of this economical event are pointed out in this double page, and we ask during the leisure hours of today a careful reading of the news. An augmented force of salespeople will be ready to wait upon all Millinery for Little Cost.

This relates briefly to millinery for women, for young ladies and for little girls.

Tomorrow will be a special occasion, both in the first floor Millinery Section and in the general department of third floor, West, for everybody interested to secure stylish Summer hats for much less than they should sell for. That time will also be opportune for securing untrimmed hats and all sorts of millinery findings for precious little prices. Here follows an idea—

All untrimmed French Chip Hats—any shape, heretofore selling for $2.00 and up to $4.00, tomorrow $1.35
Any Untrimmed Milan Hat, any shape heretofore selling for $3.00 and up to $5.00, will be sold tomorrow for $2.00
Children's Trimmed Hats, heretofore selling for $4.00 and $6.00, tomorrow will be $2.50

All imported Model Hats, some of our best examples from Paris, former prices $18.00 and up to $40.00, tomorrow will be $15.00

All the foregoing values will be found on the third floor, West, millinery section.

In the millinery section of the first floor, West, we will take this occasion to present to you $6.00, $6.00 and $7.00 Trimmed Hats for the very special price of, each $3.00

THE PIRATES THROW AWAY CHANCES TO SCORE RUNS

CARDINALS WIN OPENING GAME

Pirates Play Sleepy Ball and Burke's Boys Find Little Trouble Landing Victory.

GREAT BATTING BY BRAIN

Jimmy Burke and his band of rejuvenated Cardinals were over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon and after a two hours' argument with Clarke's crew walked off with the opening game of the series, 6 to 3. It was rather an easy victory for the visitors owing to the fact that the locals were afflicted with that tired feeling, and put little or no life into their work.

From a Pittsburgh standpoint the game was rather a tiresome affair to look at, and even the well-intended efforts of Heinie Peitz who was back on the coaching lines and making up for lost time, failed to arouse a spurt of interest in his comrades. There were times during the game when a little energy properly expended might have had a winning effect, but try as he might Peitz could not arouse the drooping spirits.

This general air of languor seemed to invade the stands, and the spectators showed a disposition to go to sleep rather than to sit up and watch the weary efforts of a lot of tired ball players. Seldom was there anything to stir up the crowd, even if it wanted to stirred. Once during the afternoon Hans Wagner tried to stir up trouble when he made a three-base hit and attempted to turn it into a home run in order that he might be in on the receiving end of a lot of presents which various merchants have offered for the first home run of the season, but Hans failed at the goal, and instead of a prize he should draw a fine for violation of orders.

This happened in the seventh inning when there was but one out, with the score 4 to 2 in the visitors' favor. It was a good lead off for a batting rally, and there is no telling what might have happened had Hans been contented to wait at third base, and Fred Clarke even tried his level best to hold him there by throwing both arms about him, but Wagner shook Clarke off and tore for home only to meet the ball in the hands of Warner to whom it had been relayed from deep left field. This was a case of throwing away a chance for runs which were so badly needed by the Pirates.

The Pirates started out with Robertaille on the rubber, and he might have gone through the game all right had his support been of any account, but it was not, and he was relieved at the end of the fifth inning after eight hits and three runs had been scored. A sample of the support given Robertaille is shown in the fourth inning when three errors were piled up, two by Wagner and a hard luck one by Clarke which practically gave the Cardinals two runs.

Lynch was called on to relieve Robertaille and his work in all but the ninth inning was all that could be asked for. In the final inning, however, the visitors got the hang of his delivery, when three hits produced two runs. The real feature of the game was the work of Second Baseman-Shortstop Brain of the Cardinals with the bat. Out of five times up Brain had three hits, all of them three-baggers, the first one to right field and the other two to deep left field.

The Pirates were the first to score getting a run in the second inning as a result of a single by Ritchey and a three-base wild throw by Burke. In the sixth Leach scored the second run when he reached first on a life and got around on singles by Lynch and Clymer. In the ninth Clymer scored the third run on his single, a put at first and a single by Wagner. The Cardinal's first run which was scored in the third inning was the direct result of a base on balls given to McFarland, followed by Brain's first three-bagger of the afternoon.

In the third inning the visitors forged to the front by scoring two runs as the result of errors by Wagner and Clarke, the latter's being a wild throw in an effort to catch a runner at the plate, the ball bounding over the catcher's head. In the ninth three-baggers by Burke and Warner and a single by Shannon produced the other two runs. Umpire Johnstone made his first appearance of the season here and his work was uniformly good. YORK, May 29.—York won in the tenth inning from Harrisburg in what was by far the most exciting game of the season on the home grounds. A lead of 7 runs obtained by Harrisburg in the third and fourth was gradually reduced by hard hitting. In the eighth Peterson was put out of the game for using bad language to Umpire Stanton in objecting to a called ball. Matthews held Harrisburg to four scattered hits after the fourth inning. BILL IS PASSED OVER HAYS' VETO

Chairman, However, Ignores Vote and Declares Mayor Is Sustained.

MEMBERS ACT UNANIMOUSLY

By a unanimous vote common council passed a bill last night over the veto of Mayor Hays. It was the worst blow the official prestige of the city executive has sustained during his administration. By a vote of 31½ votes, the entire membership present, to nothing, the body approved a resolution to pay M. F. Howley, contractor, a bill of $5,197 for extra work on a driveway in Schenley park.

The rules of councils require a three-fifths vote of the members elected to pass any measure over the veto of the mayor and, according to the fractional representation allowed the members from the Thirty-ninth ward, 31 1-5 votes are necessary. Notwithstanding that the presiding officer declared that 31 1-5 votes were sufficient to pass the bill over the veto, and announced that 31½ votes, or 3-10 of a vote more than required, had been cast for the bill he ruled, after being coached, that the mayor's veto was sustained.

The mayor sent to council a letter stating that he had refused to sign the resolution authorizing the payment of the money to Howley. He said Howley had made a contract in August, 1902, with Recorder J. O. Brown and Director of Public Works J. Guy McCandless, and that the last estimate on the contract was filed in May, 1905, making $7,975 the total cost of the improvement.

Mayor Disputes Claim.

The mayor said the superintendent of parks and the city engineer supervising the work reported that this was all that Howley was entitled to and that if Howley was not satisfied there was another remedy for him to use, implying that he had redress in the courts. At a previous meeting of councils, Howley appeared and stated that the contract had been delayed by slips in the hillside and that he had changed the course of the driveway at the direction of the city engineer.

William Brand and C. W. Helmold both advocated the payment of Howley's bill, declaring the claim was just and that the contractor could compel payment in the courts. The entire common council backed up Messrs. Brand and Helmold, and there was not a dissenting vote when President Pro Tem. Robert Porter, of the Twenty-first ward, had the roll called on the question of passing the resolution over the mayor's veto.

The passage of the bill was not only a rebuff for the mayor, but it was also an indirect slap at Director Bigelow, because the director was responsible for the mayor vetoing the measure. When the members began voting for the approval of the Howley resolution the Bigelow lieutenants got busy.

Porter Admits His Error.

The president announced that 31½ votes had been cast for the bill against the mayor's veto and, after a whispered consultation with the coachers at his desk, Mr. Porter said the mayor's veto was sustained. The correctness of this decision was questioned by Mr. Brand.

Mr. Brand got the chairman to admit the vote cast was in excess of the vote required, but Mr. Porter insisted that he had ruled that the bill did not pass over the mayor's veto and that his ruling would stand. At this point several Citizens who had been urged by Bigelow lieutenants, tried to change their votes, but the result, having already been announced, they failed and then undertook to have the vote reconsidered, but gave this up when they found themselves in the minority. No further action was taken on the bill.

A number of ordinances messaged from select council were passed, including the ordinance creating the board of explosives, the bill authorizing the purchase of the Stanton avenue engine house site, ordinances for the building of engine houses in the Twenty-second and Eighteenth wards.

Explosives Bill Passes.

Richard McNally, who is a retail druggist, attempted to amend the explosives ordinance by increasing the amount of explosives retail dealers can carry in stock and also to reduce the license fee. He failed in every instance, after Director Moore had addressed the council. Ordinances were passed for the vacation of Othello and Hagan streets and Spring alley in the Thirty-fifth ward and a bill was introduced creating an additional position of a draughtsman at $1,200 a year, in the assessor's office.

Select council passed the ordinance authorizing the purchase of the Stanton avenue engine house site in the Eighteenth ward for the sum of $4,000. This is the site selected by Director Moore and the one objected to by Select Councilman Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., of the Eighteenth ward. Mr. Wainwright made a speech against the ordinance stating that he was opposed to it for several reasons—because the appropriation for the engine house had been secured by himself for the Morningside district, and because the location in Stanton avenue is 150 feet above the Morningside district, claiming an engine in Stanton avenue would not be able to serve Morningside.

Moore Finally Wins.

He said Director Moore had admitted that two engine houses were needed in the ward and said the placing of the first house in Stanton avenue could not protect even the entire hill district because the Garfield district lies 100 feet above Stanton avenue and the engine could not get up there. Mr. Frederick, chairman of the special committee which reported the ordinance favorably, said the Stanton avenue site was the one favored by the most people of the ward. The ordinance for the Stanton avenue site was passed by a vote of 20 to 9.

The ordinance creating the municipal board of explosives, to regulate the manufacture, storage, transportation and sale of explosives, was also passed finally without opposition. The ordinance also creates the position of inspector at a salary of $2,500 a year. The inspector is expected to personally investigate all establishments where explosives are stored or sold and to make recommendations to the board regarding permits to be issued to dealers.

After Bogus Collectors.

A number of bills establishing the grades of streets and providing for sewer lines were introduced. An ordinance was presented for the vacation of a 25-foot street in the Ingleside plan of lots in the Nineteenth ward.

Persons soliciting contributions of any kind, orders for merchandise, subscriptions for books, papers, magazines, works of art, etc., must first obtain a license from the bureau of police if an ordinance introduced in select council becomes a law. No fee is charged, but a penalty of $100 is provided for each time the ordinance is violated. It is stated that the bill is the result of recent operations of bogus collectors for real estate and other firms and of persons securing orders for goods without making deliveries after collecting money.

ADMIRAL DEWEY PRAISES VICTOR

Declares Togo's Training and Torpedo Boats Were Winning Factors in the Battle.

CALLS IT A BLOW FOR PEACE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Admiral Dewey tonight expressed the belief that Admiral Togo had struck a powerful blow for peace, which he declared to be Russia's best alternative.

"It is the beginning of the end," he said, "and I can see no other outcome than that Russia will sue for peace. The advices so far seem to show that the Japanese achieved their victory by hurling torpedo boats against the Russians. It is not to be supposed, however, that the Russian battleships would surrender to the torpedo boats alone. Admiral Togo's training and the preparedness throughout his fleet, I am convinced, is responsible for his stupendous victory. If some of the Russian ships escaped we still have the record, for the victories at Manila and Santiago were complete in that all of the ships of the enemy were either destroyed or taken.

"It takes a long time to build a fleet, and I cannot see how Russia is now in a position to continue her campaign by sea. Japan, with the additional battleships captured by her and with the Russian ships sunk at Port Arthur, which she will doubtless be able to restore to usefulness, now appears to have the preponderating sea power.

"Could there be a better illustration of the value and importance of sea power? Just stop to think what it would have meant had the Russian fleet been victorious. Russia would have then had complete control of the sea, would have been able to isolate the Japanese armies in Manchuria from their source of supplies, and, in short, would have had Japan at its mercy.

"Further than this, the result of the battle is the most convincing argument on earth that we should not cease to build up our navy to the point required for the adequate defense of the country and its interests. But, more than this, whatever fleet we have should be constantly trained in its personnel and prepared in every conceivable way for the crucial test which comes in time of war. That is what we are doing now. That is the purpose of our target practice and our annual fleet maneuvers."

At the next meeting of the general board it is expected Admiral Dewey will lead a discussion on the technical features of the battle.

ATLAS SALOON IS CLOSED ON LANDLORD'S WARRANT

Customers Are Quietly Drinking When Constable Enters and Takes Possession of the Effects.

Patrons of the Atlas saloon, Sixth avenue, were quietly drinking at the bar shortly after 5 p. m. yesterday when Constable William Morris entered and quickly cleared out the place by taking possession of all the effects. He was making execution on a landlord's warrant.

The Atlas is owned by Joseph Simpson, formerly a saloonkeeper in Sixth street. It is a famous place, being known some years ago as "Richter's." When Richter failer Paul Wuesthoff took the place. He made lots of money there and sold out to Shad Gwilliam and Simpson, who later parted company, Simpson buying Gwilliam out.

It was not generally known that Simpson was in difficulties until the constable appeared with the warrant taken out by the owners of the property, James C. Gregg, Nellie H. Beymer and Anna R. Gregg.

Japanese Prince and Princess Arrive in Berlin While City Rings With News of Togo's Victory.

BERLIN, May 29.—Extra copies of the newspapers with a list of the sunken of captured Russian warships were fluttering throughout the great crowd assembled to see the Prince and Princess Arisugawa arrive here today to represent the emperor of Japan at the wedding of Crown Prince Frederick William and Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenberg-Schwerin. Emperor William sent a special train to the French frontier to bring the prince and princess and their suite of 30 persons to Berlin, and was himself at the station to welcome them. They were cheered in a fashion quite uncommon in Berlin, probably because every one is talking of the success of the Japanese in the naval combat in far eastern waters. The emperor is said to have alluded cordially to the Japanese success.

Prince and Princess Arisugawa are the guests of the emperor at the Hotel Bristol, where the Russian deputation to the wedding will also be quartered. The hotel is next door to the Russian embassy.

Local Railroads Prepared for Big Decoration Day Travel

All the local railroads leading into Pittsburgh are prepared for heavy travel today. Previous records are expected to be broken. The pleasure resorts on the lines of the various railroads have been leased by various organizations, and special trains will convey the parties to their resorts. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie will run four special trains to Woodland Beach, Ashtabula. Each train will have 10 coaches. The rate is $1.75 for the round trip. In addition to the special trains tickets will be good on all regular trains. The Labor lyceum will be at this resort. Four special trains will be run over the P. & L. E. to Cascade park, New Castle. Those trains will have 12 coaches. The Iron Moulders will picnic at this place. The Eagles of Pittsburgh and McKeesport will picnic at Allequippa. Special trains will be run every hour in the forenoon to this place. The Baltimore & Ohio will run special trains to Wheeling and Ohio Pyle. In addition special trains will be run from Cumberland, Fairmont, Grafton and other points into Pittsburgh. The Pennsylvania will run excursions to Rocks Springs, Rock Point and other resorts. This, in addition to regular travel, will break all previous Decoration day travel.

Itinerary of Physicians.

The Pennsylvania railroad passenger department has issued a booklet of the itinerary of a personally conducted tour from Pittsburgh and eastern points to Portland, Ore., on account of the American Medical association, which will meet in that city in July. The party leaves Pittsburgh July 3, returning July 6.

"Buffalo Flyer" Pays Well.

Officials of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley grand division of the Pennsylvania are greatly pleased with the results of the new Buffalo Flyer, which was started on Sunday. The train cuts two and one-half hours off the running time between Pittsburgh and Oil City, and furnishes an afternoon ride to reach Buffalo. On Sunday's first run the flyer left the Union station at 1:10, making stops at East Liberty, Kittanning, Red Bank, Emlenton, Franklin and Oil City, arriving at Oil City at 4:40, the schedule time. It takes a cafe car on at Emlenton. On the first trip the train paid a notable record. Assistant Trainmaster W. H. Barton made the trip over the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division both ways. Engineer Casey and Conductor Gundy took the "Flyer" out of Pittsburgh.

To Adjust Grain Rates.

The meeting of the grain committee of the Trunk Line association, which was to have been held in New York last Friday, will take place tomorrow. While traffic officers of the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and the Reading roads decline to discuss the subject, it has become known that the representatives of the New York roads are playing a game of delay to prevent a new schedule of rates in accordance with the decision recently made by the interstate commerce commission. It is said Philadelphia and Baltimore lines will take independent action unless the meeting is held tomorrow.

Railroad Notes.

As a precautionary measure to prevent wrecks the Pennsylvania railroad officials have issued an order that all freight trains hereafter shall carry 50 per cent air brakes, instead of 50 per cent. The law calls for 50 per cent, but the officials have decided to equip more cars with the safety appliances.

The Erie railroad has appropriated $1,500,000 for the purchase of tools for re-equipping repair shops, building new roundhouses, turntables and similar improvements.

The general offices of all railroads in Pittsburgh will be closed today.

J. A. Murdock, commercial freight agent of the Seaboard Air Line, is in Atlantic City.

W. F. Richardson, mechanical engineer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has gone to New York on business.

MAN IN THE CASE. AFTER DAMAGES

McKeesport Woman Sued for Breach of Promise and Big Damages by Campbell.

PARENTS GET HELEN SACHS

Rose Breitenreiter of McKeesport is defendant in a $25,000 damage suit charging breach of promise to marry. W. W. Campbell filed the suit. He claims they became engaged in February, 1904, and set May 4, 1904, as the date of their wedding. Because of the engagement, he alleges, he went to her home to live. He further alleges that she repeatedly put off the date of the wedding by various pretexts, until he was brought into contempt and ridicule among their friends.

Lillian M. Brown was granted a divorce from her husband, Harry F. Brown, cruel and barbarous treatment being the charge brought. She alleges that he was insanely jealous and would not allow her to visit her parents and sisters. She avers that he failed to provide for her, the largest amount of money he ever gave her at one time being $2, although she kept boarders and brought in $60 a month.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce suit brought by Annie Steinhauser against her husband, Adam Steinhauser, has been filed, cruelty and indignities being the charges brought. She alleges her husband called her "Mickey" and various vile names and treated her so badly she was obliged to leave him.

Libels in divorce were filed by Ruby C. Cassey against James W. Cassey, indignities being charged, and by Elizabeth L. Bender against Milton Bender, on grounds of desertion.

An application for a charter for the Washington Library and Athletic association of Pittsburgh was filed in common pleas court No. 2 by Attorney L. S. Levin. Among the signers are Samuel Sheniken, James Clark, Joseph F. Burke, John P. O'Donnell, Joseph Lindey, F. J. Barry and Joseph Hughes. The objects of the association are to form an organization, to maintain a gymnasium for the youth of Pittsburgh and to educate its members in scientific, literary and economic subjects.

Common pleas court No. 1 made an order committing Helen Sachs to the custody of her parents, but owing to an information against the girl charging a serious offense, it is doubtful if she can go to her parents until after the next session of criminal court. The girl, who is a Jewess, aged 13, was placed by the court in the custody of the Humane society after being found by her father, a New York merchant, in the city. The father alleged she was living with a married man, and the criminal charge against her is brought by the Humane society and grows out of her relations with that man. The court's order was made on petition of the girl's mother.

Equity suits were filed by the Brighton Laundry Company through Attorney S. S. Robertson against two of its drivers, Ira L. Midgley and Daniel C. Smith. It is alleged in both suits that contracts existed whereby neither man was to leave the employ of the plaintiff and engage with another company for a period of three months. The plaintiff avers both men quit work and are now driving for the Mutual Laundry Company and asks that they be restrained.

The National Union Fire Insurance Company has brought suit against George A. Jones, an agent, for $500 damages. It is alleged that Jones wrote a policy insuring Zorsloff & Co., of the South Side, on January 6, that Jones was at once notified to cancel the policy, but neglected to do so, and the company was obliged to pay a loss of $500 on the policy.

In the United States circuit court the case of the William Kenefick Co., general contractors, versus the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal railroad is on trial. The Kenefick Co. constructed the roadway and engineering work of the entry of the Wabash railroad into Pittsburgh, and now sues to recover $217,407, alleged to be due for extra work.

The following bankruptcy cases were filed: Charles A. Coleman, a grocer of the South side, liabilities $3,882.98, and assets $3,531.74; Robert T. Langwell, a merchant of Meadville, liabilities $14,-623.58 and assets $8,572.50; Buchanan and Gohagan, merchants of Mt. Savage, liabilities $1,290.22, and assets $3,642.26.

Judge Buffington decided shortly after the close of United States circuit court yesterday not to hold court today. It was announced by the crier in closing court that owing to the press of business that Memorial day would not be observed, but later Judge Buffington decided to observe the holiday.

INJUNCTION IS REFUSED.

Mary A. Rice Wins Suit Instituted Over Sale of Mining Stock.

In the equity suit of Edward A. Nesbit against Mary A. Rice, Harry E. McLain, Reese Lindsay and the Duquesne Development Company, in which Nesbit asked for an injunction to prevent the defendants from voting the stock of the company in order to sell the property of the corporation, charging that it was a fraudulent deal to deprive him of certain stock while he was to get for assisting in the organization of the company, Judge McClung has handed down an opinion, dismissing the bill at plaintiff's cost and refusing the injunction. The court says:

"The plaintiff has not shown that he has an interest in or claim upon any of the stock of the Duquesne Development Company is used to or held by defendant, Mary A. Rice. The prayer of the bill for an injunction was disposed of before final hearing. Upon this hearing the only question was as to the right of the plaintiff to have transferred to him 199,000 shares of stock originally issued to Mary A. Rice. Disregarding other matters which might cause a court of equity to refuse relief, however the fact be found as to the existence of a contract, we are clearly of the opinion that the plaintiff has not proven the existence of the contract set up by him as the foundation of his claim."

TO START A NAVY.

Salvation Army Preparing for a River Campaign.

The Salvation Army is about to establish a navy. Maj. William Andrews of the Pittsburgh district is to be admiral of a battleship which is to ply the Ohio river to Louisville, stocked with ammunition in the shape of bibles, religious tracts and song books. All the towns between Pittsburgh and Louisville, along the river are to be bombarded—religiously. No hostile fleets are anticipated.

Maj. Andrews is now negotiating for a suitable boat and has asked other districts bordering on the river to co-operate with him in conducting revival meetings at all the river points. A band of 12 pieces, besides a number of Salvation Army officers, will be included in the party, and if the venture is a success, the navy will include a flagship and several cruisers next year.

TO ARRANGE WAGE SCALE.

Amalgamated Association and Republic Company to Meet in Detroit.

President Theodore J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated association has arranged with the Republic Iron and Steel Company for a wage scale conference. It will be held in Detroit, June 5. Charles Hart, general manager, will represent the Republic and the wage scale committee for the Amalgamated will be W. E. Egan, A. Rocke, William Jenkins, Charles Monahan, J. Cadman, R. Fitzgerald, William Gibson, E. Jenkins, J. J. Lewis, W. W. Kappelle, J. P. English, Joseph Grandidier, P. W. McGowan, J. E. Taylor, Joseph W. Rutledge, Joseph J. Unison and P. J. McArdle.

The scale as decided upon at the Detroit convention calls for an advance of 2 per cent for puddlers, 12 for finishers, 18 for sheet mill workers and 22 for tin plate workers. Indications are the conferees will deadlock on the wage questions.

More Spotted Fever Cases.

The bureau of health yesterday received reports of two new cases of cerebro-spinal meningitis, or spotted fever. The patients are Blanche Tevis, a white child, living in Dearborn street, and Reuben Kelly, a negro, of Hillside street. Kelly is 40 years old. He is not expected to recover, but Blanche Tevis may get

CIRCUS IS VOTED BEST EVER HERE

Barnum & Bailey's Japanese Take Day Off to Celebrate Togo's Victory.

PRETTY GIRL IS NERVOUS

It's still the greatest show on earth, even if the Japanese acrobats did take a day off in order to celebrate Admiral Togo's victory. Pretty Lilly Allen, one of the stars in the Viennese troupe of aerialists, grew nervous because she had just received good news from her brother down in Mexico, and made two misses on the trapeze, but few in the big audience noticed this during the afternoon, and in the evening Miss Allen received applause that was almost overwhelming. Altogether the Barnum & Bailey show this year is a great thrillfest of novelties, and the sedate fathers and mothers who went simply "to show the children," seemed to be pleased.

The sensation of yesterday afternoon occurred when the ringmaster called for the Japanese troupe, Kamekicho and Kanko and half a dozen others came out and mounted the stage on time, but Tuliska and Kamurol failed to appear. Their excuse was plain to the ringmaster and the audience did not observe their absence. Finally, a few minutes after the act went on, the tardy performers appeared. In the dressing rooms there was a great giggle. Yesterday morning when the little brown men awoke they heard of Togo's smashing of the Russian fleet and lost no time in going out to celebrate. They had a few bottles of native wine and some other staple oriental luxuries. They raised high the banner of the Land of the Rising Sun and had a most enjoyable feast. When Togo's men are fighting, Japanese acrobats forget the rigid rules of Barnum and seemed to care little whether or not they would appear in the ring. When they managed to get around in time to do the act there was only a suspension of the ringmaster's rules. The Paul Jones of Japan does not get an opportunity to meet the Russian fleet every day, and tardiness for the same cause is not likely to happen again this season.

Miss Allen's brother Joe is a mining engineer down in Mexico. He sent her a telegram that he had just named a promising new mine "The Lilly" in his sister's honor, and when she went up into the dizzy heights of the big tent she was still thinking of Joe. She failed the first time to catch one of the other performers and he dropped into the net. If it had not been there he would have broken his neck, but when no harm resulted, Miss Allen just threw a kiss to the audience and tried again—and, of course, succeeded very gracefully.

To say that Barnum & Bailey's circus this year is "the greatest show on earth" is using trite and extravagant language, but it is the literal truth, nevertheless. To mention all the individual acts would make a tiresome story. Nobody in yesterday's audiences saw them all and nobody expected to. With more than 100 performers on the stages and in the rings at one time, and with half a hundred clowns cavorting around the ring simultaneously, it was left to the spectator to make a simple matter of choice whether he desired to be amazed, thrilled or amused.

The star features are thrillers all. Nothing more wonderful than "The Dip of Death" was ever seen in Pittsburgh. In a red devil, Mlle. de Tiers makes a plunge in an automobile upside down, and to witness it bears out the program's assertion that it is a "dreadful slap, dash, bang, full-tilt drive, ride, headlong topsy-turvy jump, wild leap, furious head-over-heels, somersaulting plunge." This act is preceded by furious chariot races and the startling bicycle act of "leaping the gap." Among the acrobatic stunts the Florenz troupe and the Grunatho company of seven female tumblers are without equal. The Wentworth-Derrick trio and the Lecusson troupe give a fine exhibition of bareback and tally-ho riding. There was nothing lacking in the hurdle riding and other familiar acts in the fanbark ring. The menagerie still maintains the Old Man Barnum's standard. The side show features are all up to date.

And there was enough peanuts and red lemonade to go around.

The performance will be repeated at the same place, Penn avenue and Gross street, East End, at 2 and 8 p. m. today, and tomorrow two performances will be given on the old circus grounds in Allegheny.

OBSERVE ASCENSION DAY.

Ascalon and Allegheny Commanderies to Attend Services at Emory M. E. Church Thursday Evening.

Ascalon commandery No. 59, Knights Templar will observe Ascension day Thursday, by attending services at Emory Methodist Episcopal church, North Highland avenue, East End. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. William R. Wedderspoon, pastor of the church.

The commandery will assemble at Freemason's hall, Fifth avenue, at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, and, headed by the Fourteenth regiment band will march to the asylum of Allegheny commandery No. 35, North avenue, Allegheny. Ascalon commandery will then act as escort to Allegheny commandery and the two will march to the Fort Wayne station, where a special train will meet them and take them to East Liberty.

After the services the commanderies will return by special train to Union station, and will parade to Freemason's hall. Eminent Commander John A. Murphy of Ascalon commandery will be in charge.

Frightened Horse Endangers Pedestrians.

Many women and children narrowly escaped being injured in Federal street, Allegheny, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a horse belonging to Contractor W. D. Beatty of 1900 West Diamond street, became frightened and ran away. The horse ran from West Diamond and Federal streets to West Parkway, where it collided with a telegraph pole and was stopped. On the way down Federal street the horse dragged a heavy delivery wagon and struck telegraph poles and wagons and carriages, but did little damage.

IS IT ANY WONDER

That Malta-Vita Melts in Your Mouth and Satisfies as No Other Food Can?

Do you know why Malta-Vita is so delicious, so crisp, so sweet? Do you know why it is the most satisfying and healthful food in the world?

Because—

Malta-Vita is made from the best white wheat.

Before the process of manufacture begins, the wheat is cleaned and scoured and the dust and refuse are drawn out of the big factory by suction, leaving it as fresh and pure as your own kitchen.

The grain is thoroughly cooked in water and steam and matured in fresh, pure air. By this time the starch in the wheat has been gelatinized, or in other words, has lost all its indigestible characteristics.

Now the wheat is mixed with the highest qualities of malt extract and this malt extract, a most active digestive agent, converts the gelatinized starch into malt sugar.

You understand, of course, that malt sugar, (maltose) in which Malta-Vita is always so rich, is of wonderful food value, very strengthening and easily digested. It makes the digestion of the crisp flaked wheat no easy task, too, even for the weakest stomach.

Malta-Vita is baked under such intense heat that when it comes out of the ovens, its crisp brown flakes delicious beyond description, it contains only a little more than one per cent of moisture.

Do you wonder now why it melts in your mouth?

And here is another thought.

Throughout the entire process of manufacture Malta-Vita is practically untouched by human hands. Machinery—clean, shining machinery—conveys it through all the changes, even to the filling and sealing of the air-tight moisture-proof packages.

Malta-Vita is the perfect food for old and young, weak and strong. For the run-down or overworked digestive organs it is a God-send. It makes red blood, refreshes the brain and the nerves, builds up bones and muscle. It is so satisfying and healthful that no home should be without it.

Malta-Vita is 10 cents at all grocers—same high quality, same big packages as when it sold for 15c.

PRESBYTERIANS BEGIN PRINTING HOUSE PROJECT

Open Fight With Board of Publication by Issuing 30,000 Envelopes Asking Contributions.

The first work of the joint committee of Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyteries on the proposed new printing house for the publication of foreign literature has been consummated in the shape of 30,000 envelopes for distribution among the Presbyterian Sunday schools throughout the county on rally day, June 10.

These envelopes request that the annual contribution, which heretofore has gone to the board of publication, be given to the proposed local printing house, while the donors are given the privilege to make any additional bequest to the publication board which they might desire.

The Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, chairman of the joint committee of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyteries, who has just returned from the meeting of the general assembly, stated yesterday afternoon that general assembly indorsed the action of the local presbyteries, but suggested that a conference be held with the Philadelphia board with a view toward harmony.

"The matter stands just as it did before the general assembly," said Dr. McEwan. "We took action in asking all congregations under the jurisdiction of the local presbyteries to turn their contributions, which have been going to the board of publication, to the support of the proposed printing house, and we will continue along those lines. We will shortly begin the issue of a Bohemian paper and will also publish religious literature in many foreign tongues, if the publication board sees fit to come in out of the wet. We will be glad to have them. We have better facilities for publishing the literature we desire than has any other locality in the country."

The board of publication has no printing plant, and it is believed that eventually the local Presbyterian printing house will do all the publishing for the board of publication and the moving of headquarters from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh is not beyond the range of possibility.

Wabash Veterans Elect Officers.

Fred H. Tristram, assistant general passenger agent of the Wabash, returned yesterday from St. Louis, where he attended Saturday evening the annual meeting and banquet of the Wabash Veteran association. The officers of president and vice president had been made vacant by deaths during the year. O. D. Ashley having been president and Milton Knight vice president. The new president is Col. Wells H. Blodgett, vice president of the Wabash. Col. Charles S. Crane, general passenger and ticket agent, was elected vice president. An interesting address was made by the retiring president of the railroad, Joseph Ramsey, Jr. The new general manager, Henry A. Miller, was introduced as a new recruit.

STOCKS CLOSED STRONG AT THE HIGHEST PRICES

The Japanese Naval Victory Was Followed by Buoyant Markets at Home and Abroad—Local Securities Were Extremely Dull.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The Japanese naval victory was responsible for buoyant markets at home and abroad yesterday. London gave the greatest display of enthusiasm. Consols at one time showed an advance of ½ per cent, and all the Japanese issues were from 1½ to 3 per cent higher. American securities in the London market were also strong and higher, and it is estimated that foreigners purchased at least 50,000 shares on balance. The effects of the overwhelming Russian defeat were less pronounced in the continental markets than might have been expected. Russian bonds in London and Berlin were slightly lower, but recovered part of their loss, and in Paris French rentes held steady at Saturday's price. It was noticeable that when news came confirming the overwhelming character of the Russian defeat, the markets at Berlin and Paris strengthened on the theory that the outcome was certain to be an early peace. This was also the view taken by Wall street, where the new Japanese 4½s, which closed on Saturday at 88, opened at 89½, rallied to 90, reacted to 88½, and late in the session recovered to 89¾.

The New York market had the benefit of the foreign buying and strength and opened firm and higher all around. After the initial burst of activity, however, the market became extremely dull, and professional traders sold on the theory that the movement had been too rapid, and that there was no change in domestic conditions. The selling brought no real liquidation of stocks, and in the afternoon there was a slow but steady recovery. In the final hour the market became decidedly strong on shorts covering, and closing prices were the highest of the day.

United States Steel stocks were rather slow to participate in the upward movement, but they finally got into line and the common closed ⅞ per cent higher for the day. The preferred closed ½ per cent higher, and the minor issues from 1 to 2 per cent higher. Amalgamated Copper was a very strong feature, closing at a net advance of 1¾ per cent. Smelting closed 1⅝ higher and Sugar 3 per cent higher.

In the railroad list Union Pacific was the leader in point of activity and led the advance, closing 2¾ per cent higher than on Saturday. Atchison and St. Paul, which made rather indifferent statements of earnings for April, closed 1½ to 2 per cent higher. The Pennsylvania group closed from ¾ to 2 per cent higher. Norfolk & Western showing the greatest advance.

While the war news was the dominating factor, Washington also furnished an important piece of news. This was the unanimous decision by the supreme court sustaining the constitutionality of the Ford franchise tax. The decision involves the payment of about $18,000,000 back taxes by the public utility corporations of Greater New York, the largest amounts by Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Metropolitan Street railway. These stocks opened heavy and lower, but soon regained the loss and rallied sharply, Brooklyn closing at a net advance of 2¾ per cent and Metropolitan at an advance of 1 per cent. While the law has thus been affirmed by the highest court and it is presumed that the taxes will be paid, the market has probably discounted the effects, since the companies have been laying aside a reserve fund to meet the tax in case the law was upheld.

The call loan market was easy, the final loan being made at 2 per cent, notwithstanding the loans run over until Wednesday, today being a holiday on the stock exchange.

The strongest stock in a dull local market was Pittsburgh Oil and Gas, which opened higher at 62, sold up at 63½ and closed at 64⅛ bid, 65 asked. Manufacturers Light and Heat was fractionally higher at 35¾, while Philadelphia Company sold at 38½, a decline of ½. United States Steel common was moderately active, 600 shares selling at 27 to 27⅛, and closing at 27⅛ bid for 500 shares. The preferred rallied a point to 93½, and closed at 93⅜ bid, 94 asked. Crucible Steel was extremely dull, but closed firm and in good demand at 10 bid for the common and 61¾ for the preferred. Pittsburgh Coal common sold at 18¼ and rallied to 18⅝ bid at the close. The preferred closed a fraction lower at 76. Lustre Mining declined a dollar to 18 and Tonopah Extension was weak, being offered at $4.80 after selling at $4.90, and closing with $4.25 the best bid. Westinghouse Electric was dull and unchanged at 82, while Air Brake was in moderate demand at 142 bid. National Fire Proofing preferred and Independent Brewing preferred closed a fraction lower, and the rest of the list nominally unchanged.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, May 29.—Money was in fair supply and increased demand in the market today in connection with the payment of various important calls. The line on the stock exchange generally was buoyant. The war news relieved the dealers' pent-up feelings, though the settlement restricted dealings. Consols led a strong upward movement and home rails rose rapidly. Americans opened irregular and hardened with other sections. Union Pacific and New York, Ontario & Western were the features. United States Steel was in good demand. A moderate amount of business was transacted and prices generally closed firm. Grand Trunk was firmer on the April settlement. Japanese improved perceptibly. Imperial Japanese government 4s of 1904 were quoted at 102¾. Russians relapsed. Consols for money, 90 9-16; consols for account, 90⅝. Exchange dull at 25 1-16d per ounce. Money, 1½@1¾ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2¼ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 2¼ per cent.

PARIS, May 29.—Prices on the bourse today opened firm. The announcement of the Japanese naval success exercised a favorable influence on the market, with the exception of Russians, which declined slightly. The market closed firm. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 88.70 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 501. Three per cent rentes, 99 francs 70 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 18¼ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, May 29.—Prices on the bourse today generally were somewhat higher, owing to London advices and hopes of peace in the far east. Russians were 3 4-10 per cent lower. Exchange on London, 20 marks 49½ pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3½ per cent; three months' bills, 2¾ per cent.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 29.—The reports of Admiral Rojestvensky's defeat were reflected only by a slight weakening of prices on the bourse here today, 4s closing at 88¾, the same as Saturday.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, May 29.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Seattle assay office, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out Saturday $6,405. Total thus paid since Friday, $7,016, against $824 a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $2,797,000. Payment by banks to government, $2,856,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $632,000, paid by banks to government. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $426,000, against $308,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago.

In New York everything closed firm and at the highest prices.

Sales included 506,600 shares stock and $7,000,000 bonds.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The action of the markets yesterday demonstrated that so far as Europe is concerned, the situation in the far east has been the dominant factor. Even Paris and Berlin felt relieved over the outcome, inasmuch as it carried the conviction that peace must soon follow, and the better feeling abroad helped Wall street. It remains to be seen, however, whether Russia will entertain peace negotiations, or whether it will withdraw from Manchuria to its own territory without formally ending the war. In some circles it is thought that France, which is the largest holder of Russian securities, will insist upon peace for the effect it will have upon the market, while in other circles it is feated that Russia will pursue her old tactics, or at least will permit the uncertainty to continue. The result of the battle certainly gave Japanese financial credit a big boost. The new 4½ per cent bonds, for which Pittsburgh was a liberal subscriber at 87⅝, recently declined to 82½, and last Saturday sold at 86. Yesterday they sold at 90. It is not improbable that Japan will take advantage of the improvement in her credit to issue additional bonds, in which event the natural effect would be to depress the market value of those already in the hands of the public. On this theory some brokers were advising the sale of the bonds around 90 with the view to taking them back at a lower price later on.

The local stock market has seldom presented a more listless appearance than at present. On the exchange the first half hour's sales amounted to only 15 shares. Late in the afternoon a good demand developed for United States Steel common and Crucible Steel common, for both of which there were firm bids for 500-share lots, but none of the stock came out. Westinghouse Electric sold at 82, but closed without quotations, and Pittsburgh Coal stocks were stagnant both here and in New York.

Some comment was made upon the fact that the $650,000 filtration bonds sold yesterday did not command a premium. A local bond dealer said the reason was that the bonds are subject to taxation in this state, and that there was an impression among bond dealers that a recent New York law might shut them out of the savings bank market of that state, where they would be free of tax, and therefore get a higher yield than to investors in Pennsylvania.

The stock exchanges, boards of trade and banks will be closed in this country today. Those of Europe will be open as usual.

The decision of the supreme court in favor of the Ford state franchise tax had been quite positively foreseen and its only apparent effect was to drive uncovered shorts in public franchise stocks to cover. While this decision has been largely discounted in the market it has played a considerable part in the recent tone of depression, and is cited as one of the instances indicating a prevailing current against the interests of corporations and of capital.

Railroad traffic officials reported some tendency to the customary mid-season dullness but expressed themselves on the whole as well satisfied with the volume of traffic offering. The April net earnings of the Wabash showing a decrease of upwards of 40 per cent from those of the preceding April were disappointing, and rather emphasized the effect of the poor showing made by the Atchison. The result in both cases was due largely to the enhancement of operating cost.

It is semi-officially stated that a dividend on Ontario & Western will be declared in June.

The Mercantile Trust Company of New York will pay the coupons due June 1 on the first mortgage bonds of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company.

From April 27, the date when the gas issue ordinance was introduced, to May 27, when the company gave notice of withdrawal of the contract, United Gas Improvement stock declined from 124 to 101, representing a depreciation in total market value of nearly $17,000,000. Yesterday the stock rallied to 104⅝.

Lehigh Valley's April statement is the best in gross and net it ever made, though there are no extraordinary increases in earnings.

Wabash reports for April net earnings of $140,750, a decrease from the same month of a year ago of $230,227. Net for 10 months, $3,707,748, a decrease of $830,414.

The board of directors of the Republic Iron and Steel Company held a meeting yesterday and after adjournment it was stated that only routine business had been transacted. No action was taken in regard to dividend on the preferred stock.

The gross earnings of St. Paul for April increased $100,412.

The Chicago board of trade won another victory in the United States supreme court yesterday in a suit involving control of its quotations.

The official announcement with reference to the Union Traction Company of Ohio, which is to take over all of the companies in which the Cincinnati traction interests are interested, states that the capital of the new company is $20,000,000, of which $10,000,000 is 5 per cent preferred stock and $10,000,000 common.

An official of the Illinois Steel Company is quoted as saying that there has been a natural lull in the steel trade, but demand is showing signs of improvement. The last week has seen more specifications given on old orders, and it is believed that assurance from the building trades unions that there will be no strike will increase orders from now on.

A Washington dispatch says: "Great pressure is being brought to bear on the president to postpone calling the extra session of congress until after the November elections, which are held November 8. He seems inclined to yield, and the probabilities now are that an extra session of congress October 15 will be abandoned."

The semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on Hazelwood bank stock is payable June 1.

The Westinghouse Air Brake Company has developed and successfully tested its new friction draught gear for railway trains. It is believed that it will have as far-reaching an effect in the railway service as the air brake did when it was introduced 35 years ago. Trains equipped with this gear are safe from the usual effects of collisions. One train running 50 miles an hour may crash into another and no harm be done, the shock being all absorbed by this new mechanism. The field opened up for the manufacture of this new invention is of enormous extent and must add largely to the profits of the air brake company.

TWO SQUIRREL HILL DEALS MADE

Bartlett Street House Brings $30,000 and Wightman Street Frontage $20,000.

GOOD FOURTH AVENUE SALE

Through the office of Page Brothers & Co. John F. Scott has bought the former Lanahan residence in Bartlett street, Squirrel Hill, for $30,000. Title to it will be secured from Prof. W. C. Lyne, who obtained the property from C. G. Moll in an exchange deal a short time ago. Mr. Scott, it will be remembered, sold his residence in Winebiddle avenue last week for $25,000, and, it is said, takes the Squirrel Hill property for a home. The Lanahan house is a comparatively new one and is one of the best residences in the street. It is of the center hall type, with 12 rooms and two bath rooms, and is finished throughout in hard wood. The lot is 80x150 feet facing on the east side of Bartlett street, between Wightman street and Murray avenue.

Albert H. Burchfield has sold to Helen D. Shields 121x200 feet of vacant frontage on the southwest corner of Wightman street and Darlington road, Twenty-second ward, for $20,000. The frontage was taken in part payment for an apartment house in Mathilda street, Twenty-fifth ward, which was put into the deal at $28,000.

Fourth Avenue Purchase.

Another sale of hump property announced yesterday was that of 512 Fourth avenue, which George H. Barnes sold to J. Walter Hay for $27,000, through the Real Estate Trust Company. This is the fourth purchase made in Fourth avenue within a square of Ross street within a week, and shows conclusively that investors, for some reason or other, are looking with considerable favor upon this neighborhood which has been nearly dormant for two years. The Hay purchase is generally regarded as a bargain inasmuch as the price is only $1,500 a front foot. The lot measures 18x86 feet, and is improved with a two-story brick house. It adjoins the Lincoln office building. Since Mr. Hay got title to the property he has declined an offer of $30,000 for it. If the county project of building an annex to the court house in Diamond street goes through this lot would be one of those most benefited, and the removal of the hump would also add considerably to its value. It is freely predicted that frontage in Fourth avenue at this point will be worth $2,000 a foot before fall.

John E. Kane of the Turtle Creek Land and Improvement Company has bought from John F. Prager a farm of 38 acres on the heights back of Aspinwall for $15,000. The land fronts in what is known as the Square Run road, and is just one mile from Aspinwall station. It adjoins the holdings of Robert C. Hall, and is only a short distance from the Delafield farm, which is now being plotted. Mr. Kane will hold the farm for an investment.

First Schenley Contracts Awarded.

The Schenley Farm Company yesterday awarded the first of the contracts for the improvement of the Oakland farm, the expenditure being $150,000. The contract covers 19,000 feet of sewering and 350,000 cubic yards of grading, and was given to Moran & Phelan of this city. The contractors started two monster steam shovels working yesterday, and the work will be pushed forward with a rush. It is not known how long it will take to carry out these contracts. Other contracts will be awarded as fast as the work is in shape for them. The surveys of the engineers have been completed and the streets grades established so that the work from this time forward will be clearly evident to the general public.

The Aspinwall-Delafield Company yesterday started the work of paving the streets on the lower part of the Delafield farm, between the hill and the Allegheny river. The grading on this part of the plan is nearly completed, sewers and sidewalks have been arranged for and it is expected that the plan will be ready for market by June 15. Although no public sale has been held the company is disposing of the business lots at a good rate, and a dozen or more of its best residence lots have been sold. Surveyors are now working on the plotting of the ground on the heights into acre and half acre plots for summer home sites.

False Alarm Widely Spread.

The raising of a small derrick on the old cathedral lot at Fifth avenue and Grant street by the Williams Miller & Sons Company yesterday started a train of surmises as to what was on foot. All sorts of rumors were afloat, one of them being that excavations on the big site had been started. For 10 days teams have been hauling steel onto the lot, and this fact evidently aroused the imagination of a local newspaper which printed a vivid story Sunday to the effect that H. C. Frick and the Mellons had awarded contracts for the erection of buildings in Grant street to cost millions of dollars. The derrick erected yesterday is for the purpose of unloading heavy steel beams from wagons, as the steel for the Frick building annex in Diamond street will be stored on the cathedral site until needed. It was stated authoritatively that Mr. Frick has done absolutely nothing in regard to the building for the cathedral lot.

Eugene L. Messler of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company will build a $30,000 residence in Forbes street, near the Murdoch entrance to Schenley park. He purchased the site a few days ago from Fred G. Kay for $37,000. It is a lot 200x125 feet and is situated only a short distance from the Mellon and Kennedy mansions at the park entrance.

Lot Plan on Charleroi Line.

Marshall Brothers have secured the exclusive handling of a small plan of lots belonging to John Johnson and located at the intersection of Banksville avenue and the Charleroi car line, in Scott township. There are six acres in the plan and these have been divided into lots 40x100 feet each, which are selling at from $600 to $1,300.

FLOUR SEEMS TO HAVE REACHED HIGH LIMIT

Markets Seem in Settling Mood and Fruit and Produce Is Growing Cheaper.

There was a general settling movement in all lines in the local markets yesterday. Flour, which has been making a most remarkable gain during the past week, seems to have about reached its limit, and is now apparently in a waiting state. At any rate, there is no further movement to higher prices as yet. Sugar and coffee both seem satisfied where they are, and there is nothing in sight for a drop or advance in either.

The butter market held steady yesterday and will remain at the same price this week at least, as no change was made yesterday on the Elgin board. Eggs are quoted a little slow and none are bringing over 17c. Even at that figure they are not a lively sale.

Green goods dropped considerably yesterday, there being a plentiful supply, and local gardeners having decided the heavy frosts did not do so much damage as was at first anticipated. Strawberry raisers in this section, however, declare the crop has been seriously hurt, and home-grown strawberries will be scarce. The price advanced a little on Delaware berries yesterday, but went down on the Maryland and Virginia product. The Delaware berries are arriving in fairly good shape, but the Maryland and Virginia stock is all the way from bad to fancy, and it is easy to get suited in prices.

Another car of watermelons arrived yesterday. They have greatly improved in quality. They cut nice, and dealers who have them are doing a rushing business. This is a good market for luxuries and such early products always take well.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 47½ cars hay, 1 cars oats, 14 cars mixed, ½ car straw. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars oats, 1 car wheat. Baltimore & Ohio, 20 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 3 cars corn, 1 car corn and oats.

Heavy receipts yesterday had a depressing effect on the market. The approaching holiday also worked along the same line. The result was severe reductions in hay and oats, while bran advanced.

WEAK UNDERTONE IN THE WHEAT MARKET

Optimistic Reports on Crop Situation in Southwest Is Chief Factor—Corn Stronger.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 29.—Optimistic reports regarding the crop situation in the southwest today developed a weak undertone in the wheat market here. Another bearish influence was the Japanese naval victory. At the close, July wheat was off 1⅝c. Corn is up ⅛@⅜c. Oats and provisions are practically unchanged.

Weakness prevailed in the wheat market from start to finish. At the opening July was off ⅛@⅜c at 89½@89¾c to 90¼c. The initial decline was due to a variety of circumstances. One of the factors that influenced trading early in the session was the decisive defeat of the Russian fleet, the inference being that peace would probably follow soon. With peace declared, grain markets in American would lose an element of strength that for more than a year has helped to hold prices at a high level. A further source of weakness was a sharp decline in Minneapolis following continued liberal receipts of that point. In addition to these conditions in the United States were considered more favorable to the growing plant. There was no great volume of offerings, but selling by pit traders was persistent throughout the entire session. Liquidation by small longs in advance of the holiday tomorrow was one of the features of trading. While some crop damage news was received, messages from the southwest today told in general an entirely different story about the whole crop than was in circulation last week. Fields which were said to have given no promise a week ago have now today reported as showing great improvement. One message from Kansas City declared that traders who were predicting half a crop 10 days ago admitted now that there has been an improvement equal to 20 per cent. Many of these traders would raise between 25,000,000 and 50,000,000 bushels if predictions of some well-posted grain men in that section were realized. Late in the session the market became decidedly weak, July declining to 88½@88¾c. The close was practically at the lowest point of the day, July finishing at 88¾@88⅞c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 58,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,064,000 bushels, compared with a holiday last year. The visible supply decreased 1,700,000 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 621 cars against 344 cars last week.

Considering the weakness of wheat the corn market was remarkably strong. The strength was largely the result of a persistent demand from several prominent commission houses for the July option. The buoyancy of prices today seemed to indicate that the market had been largely oversold during the sensational slump of last week. Local receipts were exceptionally large at 1,100 cars, but even at these figures the total arrivals were considerably less than was generally anticipated. Business, on the whole, was of small volume. July opened a shade lower, at 48¾c, influenced mainly by a decline at Liverpool. The price advanced steadily throughout the day. After touching 49½c, July closed at 49c. May sold between 52¾@51¾c, closing with a gain of 1⅛c at 51c. Local receipts were 1,100 cars with 580 of contract grade.

Wet weather throughout the central states caused a firm undertone in the oats market. Another bullish influence was a decrease of 1,000,000 bushels in the visible supply. Liberal receipts tended to offset the effect of these bullish factors. July opened a shade to ⅛@¼c lower, at 30¾c to 30⅝c, sold up to 30¾c and closed at 30½c. Local receipts were 307 cars.

Provisions were a trifle easier as a result of a decline of 5c to 10c in the price of hogs following liberal arrivals. Trading was extremely quiet. At the close July pork was off 2½c at $12.40. Lard was off a shade at $7.25. Ribs were unchanged at $7.20@7.30.

Estimated receipts for Wednesday: Wheat, 28 cars; corn, 1,017 cars; oats, 281 cars; hogs, 21,000 head.

FRANCHISE TAX UPHELD BY COURT

Decision Will Cause Payment of $24,000,000 in Greater New York.

PENNSYLVANIA CASES DECIDED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The New York special franchise tax cases were decided today by the supreme court of the United States adversely to the corporations by which they were brought to the court. The decision was handed down by Justice Brewer and it held the law under which the tax was levied to be valid. The law subjects to a system of general advalorem taxation the special and local franchises of the public utilities, such as street cars, electric light, gas and telephone plants occupying the public streets.

Justice Brewer said that the decision of the court of appeals settled that there was nothing in the law or proceedings in the case in conflict with the constitution of New York. He added that it was not contended by the plaintiff in error that there was any constitutional objection to the taxation of franchises. "The right to subject them to a share in the burden of supporting the government is conceded," he said.

Taking up the contentions in the case he said the main one was that this tax legislation impaired the obligation of contracts, and added: "It must be borne in mind that resumptively all property within the territorial limits of the state is subject to its taxing power."

Unpaid taxes amounting to almost $24,000,000 in the Greater New York are made payable by the decision. Among the companies affected and the sums due from them under the law are the following: The Manhattan Elevated Railway Company, $4,221,051; Consolidated Gas Company, $1,480,903; Metropolitan Traction system, $6,025,184; Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, $2,222,650; Brooklyn Union Gas Company, $861,268, and the New York & Harlem Railroad Company, $984,-429.

The supreme court decided the case of Margaret Cunnuls vs. the School district of Reading, Pa., sustaining the decision of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, to the effect that Mrs. Cunnuls' absence for seven years justified the appointment of one to take charge of her property.

In the case of Burns vs. Hayes, involving the controversy between the two factions of the Knights of Labor, the supreme court denied the motion on behalf of Burns or a rule against the members of the other faction requiring them to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court in violating a supersedeas issued by the court.

The court decided the cause of Van Reid against the Peoples National bank of Lebanon, appealed on writ of error from the New York court of appeals. The question involved was whether state courts could acquire jurisdiction and attach property of a national bank organized in another state. It was decided that the national bank act prevents any such jurisdiction.

In an opinion by Justice Brown the court decided the case of the board of trade of Chicago vs. the Hammond Elevator Company, adversely to that company. The case involved the elevator company's rights to appropriate the board's quotations.

CONVENTION CALLED TO ARRANGE FOR LABOR DAY

Mass Meeting is to Be Held in Old City Hall on Sunday, June 18.

A call is being sent out for the convention of labor organizations to arrange for next Labor day's demonstration. The meeting will be held in Old City hall Sunday afternoon, June 18. The state Labor day law makes the holiday fall on the first Monday in September. This year it will be held September 4.

All unions, assemblies, lodges, divisions and district organizations will each be entitled to three delegates, who must present credentials properly signed and sealed by the president and secretary of the organization represented. In case any organization does not hold a meeting in the meantime, the president is authorized to appoint the delegates to attend the convention, and who must also present credentials.

Some of the labor unions do not favor holding a parade this year, while others think that organized labor should celebrate the holiday in a befitting manner. On account of the convention of the American Federation of Labor being held in Pittsburgh next November, some of the labor leaders think it will be too much to hold two demonstrations.

ALLEGHENY WATER RATE IS FIXED FOR THIS YEAR

The Total Assessment Is $6,643.83 in Excess of the Amount Collected in 1904.

Assessments for water rents have been completed by the Allegheny bureau of water supply, and yesterday James W. Gray, superintendent of the bureau, sent his report to Director Edward J. McIlvain of the public works department. The report shows that this year the money to be collected for water supply is $6,643.83 in excess of the amount assessed last year. This year's assessment amounts to $879,065.06, while that for last year totaled $872,421.23. The various wards are assessed as follows:

First, $26,638.10; second, $69,545.94; third, $98,167.35; fourth, $53,921; fifth, $37,826.49; sixth, $38,180.69; seventh, $17,-363.84; eighth, $8,392.39; ninth, $18,018.69; tenth, $22,509.75; eleventh, $28,282.85; twelfth, $12,813.25; thirteenth, $1,041.92; fourteenth, $4,543.15; fifteenth, $11,490.44.

ATTENDANCE IS SMALL.

Many Pastors Absent from Ministerial Meetings Because of Conferences.

Attendance was small at the weekly ministerial association meetings yesterday, owing to the sessions of various denominational governing bodies. Presbyterian ministers were addressed by Evangelist Robert J. Young of Toledo, O., who spoke on his work. The Rev. Dr. John L. Hillman addressed Methodist Episcopal pastors on "John Wycklif," the Rev. W. E. McCullough spoke to the United Presbyterian clergymen on "Puritans," and the Rev. A. J. Bonhall discussed "Social Baptists" before the Baptist preachers.

Methodist Protestant ministers devoted their session to a discussion of their proposed picnic at Aliquippa park on July 11. The Rev. Dr. L. Miller presided at the Lutheran ministerial meeting, which was addressed by the Rev. C. P. Wiles on "The Blessedness of the Redeemed as Compared With That of the Unfallen."

TEAMSTER EMPLOYERS BECOMING AGGRESSIVE

Many Drivers Idle in Chicago Because of Lack of Police Protection.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 29.—Renewed aggressiveness on the part of the employers, whose teamsters are on strike, is expected on Wednesday. Taking advantage of the legal holiday tomorrow, plans will be formed for extensively increasing the amounts of deliveries to be made from lumber yards. The downtown business houses, where strikes exist, have 400 unemployed drivers. These they cannot use on account of the inability of the police to furnish protection; and on Wednesday these men will be sent to the firms in the lumber yards.

The May grand jury today began an investigation into the strike, directing its inquiry particularly to that feature which is said to involve the payment of money for an attempt to bring about a settlement of the difficulty by a number of the labor leaders. It was also proposed to inquire into the existence of an alleged blacklist against the striking express wagon drivers.

NEW YORK, May 29.—That the officials of various express companies concerned in the Chicago teamsters' strike will consider no compromise of the dispute with their men was the statement made today following an informal conference of the express officials in the office of Senator Thomas C. Platt, president of the United States Express company, in this city.
